GO on banning photography in govt offices draws flak

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE decision of the state government to impose restrictions on taking photographs and videos in government offices without permission has drawn criticism from various quarters including the public and opposition party leaders. Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah said that the government was trying to shield corruption by bringing in this prohibition.

The order issued by the Under Secretary, Department of Personnel and Administration Reforms (DPAR), states that the president of Karnataka State Employees Association requested that some people who come to government offices in Bengaluru, districts and taluk level offices click photos or take videos of the employees and post them on social media.

This causes inconvenience to employees, especially women. Henceforth, taking photographs and videos without permission of officials is banned, the order said.

Siddaramaiah said on the one hand, the government is known for 40 per cent commission and on the other they are involved in various scams including the PSI recruitment scam.

Take your ₹2L back, want harmony: Woman to Siddu

MAHESH M GOUDAR @ Bagalkot

"We need justice and peace between Hindus and Muslims, not compensation," said a furious Rajma Bismilla, while refusing compensation money from Leader of the Opposition in Karnataka Assembly, Siddaramaiah. She is the wife of one of the injured in Kerur violence which took place recently.

The woman not only refused to take compensation offered by Siddaramaiah, but also hurled back ₹2 lakh cash on the escort vehicle of the senior Congress leader in Bagalkot on Friday.

Siddaramaiah, who represents Badami assembly segment, visited a hospital and enquired about the health of those injured in the violence which took place in Kerur on July 6. While paying visit to the families, Siddaramaiah handed over compensation of Rs 50,000 each to four families.

Speaking to reporters, Rajma said, "Hindus and Muslims have been living like brothers and sisters for the past many decades in Kerur. Not one communal violence had been reported in the town. This incident has disturbed communal harmony. We don't want any money from the government or politicians. Instead, we need peace between Hindus and Muslims and justice for followers of both religions." P4

NIRF: IISc TOPS UNIV, RESEARCH RANKINGS

IIT Madras, JNU, Jamia lead the charts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

INDIAN Institute of Sciences Bengaluru topped the university category in the National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF). Indian Institute of Technology Madras remained the country's best in the overall category for the fourth consecutive year.

IISc is followed by Jawaharlal Nehru University and Jamia Millia Islamia. Jamia improved its position from last year's number six. While Delhi University's Miranda House ranked first in the college category, the AIIMS is the best medical college in the country. IIT Madras also bagged the top position as the best engineering college and got the second position in the research category.

In the rankings released on Friday by Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan, IISc took the number two spot, followed by IIT Bombay in the overall category. From next year, NIRF will add two other categories — innovation and entrepreneurship. "There is already work going on on rankings of ITIs and polytechnics," he said.

IIM Ahmedabad ranked first in the top B-schools in India, followed by IIM Bengaluru, IIM Calcutta, IIT Delhi and IIM Kozhikode. In the medical category, AIIMS, Delhi was followed by the Post Graduate Institute of Medical Education and Research, Chandigarh and Christian Medical College, Vellore.

Five Delhi colleges made it to the top 10, which included Presidency College and Loyola College, Chennai. NLSIU, Bengaluru got the first position for law, followed by National Law University, Delhi and Symbiosis Law School, Pune. Saveetha Institute, Chennai topped the dental category. P9

CUET debuts amid confusion, cancellations

KAVITA BAJALI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE first phase of the Common University Entrance Test (CUET), India's second largest entrance examination, kicked off on Friday amid complaints of mismanagement, out-of-syllabus questions, and lengthy question papers.

Many students reportedly missed the exam as their centres were suddenly changed to faraway places. Baffled students and their parents complained they were informed of the change just hours before the exam. And, those who managed to write the test for admission to 45 central universities found some questions were not from NCERT books.

ment, some CUET candidates as well as their parents took to social media to express their angst. One parent said his daughter missed the exam because the centre was changed at 11.45 pm on Thursday and the new one was 60 km away.

Taking to Twitter, a student said she missed the exam as she didn't check her mail in the night. "The information came at night and I didn't see it. The changed exam centre was far-off... I couldn't reach on time."

Exams in New Jalpaiguri (West Bengal) and Pathankot (Punjab) were cancelled due to "technical reasons", said Vineet Joshi, director-general, National Testing Agency (NTA), which conducts the CUET. All 197 candidates in these two centres have been allocated slots in Phase 2, which will be held in August. He told this paper that genuine candidates who missed CUET on Friday will be allowed to take it in the second phase.

With 14.9 lakh registrations, the CUET is being conducted in two phases. Candidates who have opted for Physics, Chemistry or Biology have been assigned Phase 2.

7 KARNATAKA VARSITIES IN TOP 100 OF NIRF RANKING

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SEVEN universities, including Bangalore University (BU) and Visvesvaraya Technological University (VTU), from Karnataka have entered the top 100 rankings of the National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF), while the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) has retained its second place from last year.

IISc, however, has increased its overall score to 83.57 from 82.67 last year. It is on top in the University and Research Institutions category. But, an institute official told TNIE, compared to last year, the scores awarded under the Research, Professional Practice & Collaborative Performance (RPC) have come down from 91.48 to 87.45 and Outreach and Inclusivity (OI) from 58.39 to 57.46. One of the premier institutes, Manipal Academy of Higher Education, slipped from 15 last year to 17 now. But its overall score jumped from 58.91 to 61.23. The National Institute of Technology, Surathkal, jumped five places from 32 to 27 with a boost in its scores too, while Mysore University (MU) dropped 20 ranks from 34 to 54. MU's peer perception score too went down from 30.07 to 4.08. Peer perception "is to be done through a survey conducted over a large category of Employers, Professionals from Reputed Organizations and a large category of academics to ascertain their preference for graduates of different institutions," the report stated. "Though our ranking has reduced from 19 to 33 in the Universities Category, we have retained our first position among public universities. The drop in ranking is because of shortage of teachers," said MU Vice-Chancellor Prof Hemanth Kumar. JSS Academy of Higher Education and Research, Mysuru, dropped four ranks from 56 to 60, but upped its score from 46.95 to 49.31. "We are happy that our efforts in striving for quality and excellence paid off. We are top among universities recognised for research in the health sciences area," said Dr B Suresh, Pro-Chancellor of the university. BU and VTU entered the top 100 rankings with respective scores of 44.53 and 44.35. VTU is ranked 100, while BU 98. "We're very happy with the rankings as Bangalore University has climbed four places from last year. This will definitely be a blueprint as we hope to continue rising in the ranks," Bangalore University Registrar M Kotresh said.

Objections with regard to changes in boundary that were in conflict with the 'set rules' were ignored, he added.

Residents welfare associations — KHB Nagarikara Kshembaviridhi Sangha, Kasturinarwar Welfare Association (KWA) and others — criticised the government for ignoring their pleas. "Bande Mutt Ward 34 was carved out of many areas from Kengeri. The leaders here have done it with an eye on votes and ignored emotions attached to Old Kengeri. The Kengeri Ward now has no historical significance as many old areas have been merged with Bande Mutt Ward," said S Sudarshan, General Secretary, KHB Nagarikara Kshembaviridhi Sangha.

Srinivas Alavilli from Janaagraha said, "The government should acknowledge all objections submitted and provide an explanation to rebuild trust among citizens. Though names of wards are less important than haphazard splitting of layouts and colonies, they should have used this opportunity to celebrate our great city's rich heritage," he added.

Y'wanthpur Metro, rly stns won't be linked soon

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

AFTER eight years of delay, work on a bridge to connect Yeshwanthpur Railway and Metro stations, begun by Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRL) last month, has ground to a halt. The Foot Over Bridge (FOB) on Tumakuru Road side will not come up in the near future too, thanks to a decision by Railways to redevelop Yeshwanthpur/ Yesvantpur Railway Station (YPR).

The FOB work began after sustained pressure from rail activists and passengers for pedestrian connectivity, to facilitate an interchange between the two modes of transport, ever since Yeshwanthpur Metro Station on the Green Line was inaugurated in March 2014.

BMRL had contracted the work at a cost of Rs 1.62 crore to Hombale Construction and Private Limited. The bridge, to run 90 metres long and 4 metres wide, from the Metro station end was to link with the existing FOB of the railway station from Platform One end.

A senior Metro official told TNIE, "We had carried out some preliminary work in connection with our FOB. However, er, at a meeting held a fortnight ago, Railways asked us not to go ahead with construction as Yeshwanthpur station was in for major redevelopment."

Thankfully, only 5 per cent of the overall work was completed, including building of trenches for utilities, and foundation work in a few spots. "Unless the final shape of the upgraded railway station is not ready, any structure built by BMRL may have to be demolished if the alignment doesn't match," he added.

PETER VIDAL

16th July: Aries rises up the celestial agenda today, which means that it's time to stop prevaricating and start acting. We should all tackle all those tasks that we have been leaving until tomorrow – and the next day. It's the perfect moment to discover the joy of clearing the decks and working to the end of our to-do-lists!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20) You may have grown tired of the limelight, and the thought of spending a little time by yourself may now be more appealing. If so, you've picked a good moment to hibernate. Adventures in the big, wide world will be tinged by idealism or romantic fancies.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21) It may be difficult to come to terms with changes which affect your long-term security, but that is precisely what you must do. On a lighter note, morning and early afternoon offer ideal opportunities for trips which are eccentric, unusual or unexpected.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) This really is a special time. Only one planet directly influences you, but that one, Venus, is both poetic and a bringer of beauty. Your major asset right now is therefore your smile. It's amazing how far a little goodwill will ease your path.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) There seems little doubt that renewed determination should see you through. Although there is a great scope for confusion and misunderstandings, if your goals are imaginative and far-seeing you will get your way at home, with good consequences for everyone.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) Events that transpired recently may have made you a little doubtful about you, or a partner's professional actions, but today you may forget such concerns and get on with your own very private activities. Put your dreams into practice; you may not have a second chance.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) Your day-dreams tend to take place on a vast and grandiose scale at the moment. Today, however, you may wish to take the plunge and see how your imaginings work out in the real world. You may need expert help, but somehow feel that for once you are on top.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) There's pressure at home today with a high chance of unexpected developments early on and the occasional personal muddle by midday. This doesn't mean that you'll have a bad time. Far from it – life could be increasingly enjoyable if you look on the bright side.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) Romantic relationships look distinctly expensive at the moment. However, you may now indulge an adventurous urge, no matter what the cost. You can look overseas for inspiration or, at the very least, introduce a touch of the exotic into your everyday life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) If you leave too many decisions to other people you may abdicate responsibility, but this may be a bad thing. There is often something to be said for allowing chance to take a hand and waiting to see what fate turns up. You never know – you might be pleasantly surprised.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) It must be comforting to know that other people love you, but the air-words may be thick with confusing and contradictory messages today. Watch out for someone who seems to be growing increasingly touchy – maybe there is something you can do to help.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) This should be a busy day, perhaps with an erratic beginning and a confusing middle. As far as your health is concerned, today is a fine moment to get into a new fitness regime. This doesn't mean cutting out the chance of amusing, and possibly inspiring, chaos. Leave yourself open to whatever happens.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20) Truly splendid romantic and social stars await if you are prepared to be slightly irresponsible. If you insist on punctuality and sobriety, you are likely to cut out the chance of amusing, and possibly inspiring, chaos. Leave yourself open to whatever happens.

Lab technician held after gay partner dies

He had booked a room in a lodge, and invited his partner; they were in a relationship for four years, say police

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A lab technician working with a reputed hospital in the city was arrested for the death of his 24-year-old gay partner. The accused and deceased, both from Tamil Nadu, were reportedly in a relationship for the past four years, and would of ten meet in lodges in the city.

On July 4, the technician, Tamilu Manivannan, had booked a room for a day at Relax Lodge in Marathahalli, and invited his partner, Rajagopal. It is suspected that Rajagopal died during a sexual act, and Tamilu locked the room from outside and fled. As the room remained locked, though the booking was not extended, room boys used a spare key to go in on July 7, and found the dead man. The lodge staff filed a complaint with the jurisdictional Marathahalli police. Based on CCTV footage and details furnished at the time of booking the room, police managed to nab the accused. "Both the men were earlier working in a hospital in Tamil Nadu, and continued their relationship even after marriage. However, their marriages broke up after their wives learnt about their relationship. Tamilu later moved to Bengaluru and started working here. He would frequently book rooms at different lodges and invite Rajagopal," said an officer who is part of investigations.

"The victim was not murdered. He is suspected to have died while both of them were involved in a sexual act. A case of culpable homicide, not amounting to murder, under Section 304 IPC, was registered. The accused was remanded in judicial custody," S Girish, DCP, Whitefield division, told TNIE. Marathahalli police are investigating.

Tell engineers to clear encroachments on lakes: HC to Palike

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TAKING serious exception to the casual approach of BBMP officials in removing encroachments on Begur and Subramanyapura lakes, the Karnataka High Court summoned the jurisdictional executive engineers, the officials designated to remove the encroachments.

A division bench of Acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice JM Khazi ordered the engineers to be present before court on July 20.

When the matter was taken up for hearing on Friday, BBMP counsel submitted that there is an encroachment of over three acres by slum dwellers on Subramanyapura Lake, and the Slum Development Board has to remove it. However, no explanation was offered on another encroachment on the lake. Similarly, no satisfactory explanation was given with regard to action taken for removal of encroachments, except for having corresponded with the Slum Development Board.

The court told the BBMP counsel that removal of encroachments doesn't mean writing letters to departments, but action on the ground. "You have not been able to convey the seriousness of the order in this public interest litigation, which is meant for future generations, to your officers, and hence they are enjoying sitting in their office. We anticipated your casual approach and that you would attempt to complicate the matter and seek adjournments. We know how to deal with them and get work done," the court warned.

Later, the court directed the designated officers to take steps for removal of encroachments on Subramanyapura and Begur lakes, as mentioned in the survey report submitted to court, and granted them six weeks' time. The executive engineers were directed to remain present before court on July 20.

Meanwhile, the BBMP counsel has undertaken to ensure the officers are present before court, to record their statements.

3 men rob couple in Devanahalli, arrested

An engineer and his female friend, who were returning on a bike after having dinner at a restaurant near KIA in Devanahalli, were threatened and robbed by three men in a car last Saturday near the dhaba gate on Ballari Road in Devanahalli town. The accused were arrested on Wednesday. The engineer, S Kiran (27), was on his way to drop his friend at her hostel in Marathahalli. Enroute, when he stopped, the men parked their car near the couple and attacked Kiran with an iron rod. After taking his gold chain, one of them forced Kiran to ride to an ATM near Vijayapura Cross and withdraw Rs 15,000 while the woman was held captive in the car by other two. They got Kiran to pay for their dinner and liquor, which they got packed. They accused have been identified as Anil Kumar alias Devaru, 22, Subramani alias Sutta alias Abhilash, 19, and Pavan Kumar alias Poli, 24, all residents of Devanahalli. The gold chain, car used for the robbery and weapon used to attack Kiran, were recovered.

KERALA MAN MURDERED IN JIGANI, MOTIVE UNKNOWN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A 31-year-old man, working with a private company engaged in military engineering, was stabbed to death by a gang of three unidentified bike-borne assailants, in the vicinity of his office. The incident took place in Jigani Industrial Area on Thursday night, and police are investigating to know the motive behind the murder.

Sanu Thompson, from Rajapuram in Kasaragod of Kerala, was walking home to his paying guest accommodation around 10.30pm, when the men attacked him. Police said he had walked about 100 metres from the gate of his office, when the three men accosted him, stabbed him and sped away. Thompson was working at an assistant engineer with the company for the past 10 years, and lived close by.

"The assailants stabbed Thompson in the chest, and he died almost instantly. As per CCTV footage, the entire incident took place within 10 seconds. They did not even try to rob him, and his mobile phone, wallet and other valuables are intact. However, we don't want to arrive at any conclusion at this stage, and are probing the case from all angles," an officer said.

Thompson's family members collected the body after post-mortem on Friday. Jigani police have taken up a murder case and are investigating.

Day 1: 33K take free booster jab

Bengaluru: The free booster dose campaign for those aged between 18 and 59 years, which began on Friday in 8,000 government centres across the state, saw good response. In all, 33,153 people got their booster shot on Day 1 of the campaign, while only 1,906 people in the same age group were vaccinated with the booster dose on Thursday. The drive will go on for 75 days on the occasion of 'Azadi Ka Amrut Mahotsav', from July 15 to September 30. On Saturday, Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar will formally launch the 'Covid Vaccine Amrut Mahotsav' campaign in 75 centres across the State.

On Friday, Karnataka reported 977 cases, with 871 cases in Bengaluru. There was one death, of a 73-year-old male in Dharwad.

RPF cops save man from being run over by train

Bengaluru: Three Railway Protection Force (RPF) personnel on Friday rescued a male passenger who fell down while trespassing on a railway track from being hit by a speeding train at Krishnarajapuram railway station. The passenger was walking on the tracks to cross between platforms two and three around 11 am when he fell down. With the Chennai-Mysuru Shatabdi hurtling down the tracks, Assistant Sub-Inspector G D Ravi and constables Pradip Kumar and Manjura who were nearby rushed and dragged him out of the tracks to safety, said a senior officer of the RPF. "One of the officers lifted him while the other two quickly pushed him off the tracks," the officer added.

Govt received ₹23Kcr to set up agri-infra: Min

Central fund to give out loans at 3% interest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Union government has received proposals to set up agriculture infrastructure at different places across the country with an investment of Rs 23,000 crore under the Agriculture Infrastructure Fund (AIF), said Union Minister for Agriculture and Farmers Welfare Narendra Singh Tomar here on Friday.

AIF, announced by the Union government, aims to provide medium and long-term loans through primary agricultural credit societies and commercial banks to those who want to set up agri-infra-structure. AIF was launched to address infrastructure gaps and to mobilise investments to improve agri-infra-structure.

A report released during the National Conference of State Agriculture and Horticulture Ministers that concluded on Friday points out that as of June 2022, major projects sanctioned under AIF included 6,521 warehouses, 1,536 primary processing units, 1,005 custom hiring centres, 527 sorting and grading units, 409 cold store projects, 157 assaying units and around 2,800 other post-harvest management projects and community farming assets.

Tomar said that of the Rs 1 lakh crore proposed to provide loans through banks and financial institutions, as on date, the government has received Rs 23,000 crore. Of that, proposals worth Rs 13,000 crore are under consideration that will be disbursed as loan by 2025-26.

He said the nod will be given to loans to people with "impressive proposals" and these loans will have a minimal interest rate of 3 per cent.

Explaining the outcome of the two day-conference, Tomar said agriculture and horticulture ministers from 23 states and officials from all the states took part. Applauding Karnataka's efforts in implementing the tech-based system in agriculture, he said others will take the model to their states. Similarly, the crop insurance scheme from Andhra Pradesh, the system of growing horticulture crops from Haryana and best practices from other states can be implemented in other states, he added.

During the meeting, the participants decided to focus on natural and organic farming. "With less chemical fertilisers, the quality of soil will improve and that will in turn boost the quality of crops. At present, natural farming has been taken up in 4 lakh hectares and organic farming in 38 lakh hectares. We want to increase it in the coming days," he added.

The meeting discussed Digital Agriculture to give relief to farmers during natural calamities and the drone policy. Stressing on palm oil farming, he said that at present, the palm is being grown in 3 lakh hectares which the government wants to increase to 6 lakh hectares by 2025.

BJP brainstorms ways to burnish image before polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH survey reports from various agencies, and its own internal survey giving the ruling BJP an unflattering picture, the party's 'chintan manthan' on Friday discussed at length measures to overcome the anti-incumbency factor against the government.

Party state in-charge Arun Singh officiated the meeting, which was attended by former chief minister B S Yediyurappa as well. The high command was particular that Yediyurappa -- who had given several meetings a miss in the past -- takes part as his presence sends a message to workers that he is not being sidelined, which will help the party in the run-up to the 2023 assembly polls.

Friday's 'chintan manthan' was the fallout of RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat's visit to the state, during which he held a one-on-one chat with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, sources said. The failure of the leaders, especially ministers, in tackling corruption charges by opposition parties, was taken up for discussion. The opposition, especially the Congress, has been raising the PSI recruitment scam and 40 per cent commission in contracts scam at every public forum.

With elections fast approaching, the BJP discussed strategies to silence the opposition, and ways to tackle internal bickering in the party, which was affecting unity. Leaders, including National General Secretary B L Santhosh, spoke of taking corrective measures to send a message to voters.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, former CM BS Yediyurappa, BJP leaders Arun Singh, and Nalin Kumar Kateel during the BJP chintan manthan in Bengaluru on Friday

About 60 leaders, including state BJP chief Nalin Kumar Kateel, C T Ravi, D V Sadananda Gowda, former chief minister Jagadish Shettar, S A Ramadas, Arvind Limbavali, ministers R Ashoka, V Somanna, K Gopalai-ah and others took part.

More meetings on cards

A meeting of different wings of the party will be held on Saturday, followed by an evaluation of Bommai's cabinet ministers on Sunday, at a private hotel, sources said. The party high command has warned that those who underperform will miss the party ticket for the 2023 assembly polls.

Pramukhs grill ministers

On Thursday, RSS pramukhs Mukund and Tippeswamy reportedly grilled ministers Ashoka, Dr C N Ashwath Narayan, Dr K Sudhakar, N Munirathna and former RDPR minister K S Eshwarappa, on allegations levelled against them by opposition parties, sources said. They also raised the issue of party and RSS workers being allegedly ignored in the government, and gave a diktat to the Bommai government to take necessary action. This is likely to reflect in the appointment of party workers to boards and corporations, with the new list likely to be out in a day or two.

BJP ticket almost sure for senior IAS officer

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

SENIOR bureaucrat and additional chief secretary (PWD) Anil Kumar BH, who is set to retire on July 31, has almost sealed his ticket from the ruling BJP to contest the 2023 Assembly polls.

The 1987-batch IAS officer, Kumar was one of the guests when RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat visited Gurupetha's head Sri Madara Channayya Swamiji at Chitradurga recently, which implies that he will enjoy the backing of both the swamiji and RSS.

He is likely to contest against former deputy chief minister Dr G Parameshwara from the Koratagere Assembly constituency and has already held several rounds of meetings. Parameshwara, who lost the seat in 2013 despite being in the run for the chief minister's post as the then KPCC chief, is expected to face a tough fight as Kumar belongs to the SC left community, which has a substantial electorate in the constituency Son of BH Hanumanth Raju, a retired special deputy commissioner, and L Sharadamma, a KPCC member, Kumar hails from Bellavi village in Tumakuru Rural that is adjacent to the Koratagere constituency. He is an MSc in nuclear physics from Bangalore University. Kumar, who started his career as the sub-divisional magistrate of Sagara in Shivamogga district, was noticed by the leaders for his initiatives to promote khadi and digitisation between 2013 and 2017, when he was on central deputation.

He is likely to contest against former deputy chief minister Dr G Parameshwara from the Koratagere Assembly constituency and has already held several rounds of meetings. Parameshwara,

Prez polls: BJP lawmakers to stay in hotel

ENS @ Bengaluru

STATE BJP will shepherd a majority of its 122 legislators and 25 Lok Sabha members, who are voters in the presidential polls, to a private star hotel in Bengaluru on Saturday and keep them there till the voting on Monday.

BJP chief whip and MLA Satish Reddy instructed all MLAs including ministers to check in on Saturday and to stay till Monday. Except for some ministers, who have sought exemption because of their tour programmes, all others are expected to be at the hotel.

Some leaders, wishing not to be named, expressed surprise at the move, saying the presidential poll is no big deal as NDA nominee Droupadi Murmu's victory is a foregone conclusion with the alliance's brute numbers in Parliament as well as assemblies, as compared to the opposition candidate Yashwant Sinha.

Some said BJP is concerned about cross-voting as there is no showing of the ballot paper to the party nominee, unlike in the Rajya Sabha polls. BJP has organised a mock voting drill.

CM Basavaraj Bommai holds a video meet with DCs of rain-hit areas on Friday | EXPRESS

Compensation for crop losses from rain hiked

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

STATE government has increased the compensation amount for crop losses due to heavy rains. Compensation for crops in rain-fed areas has been increased from Rs 6,800 to Rs 13,600 per hectare, from Rs 13,500 to Rs 25,000 for irrigated crops, and from Rs 18,000 to Rs 28,000 per hectare for multi-year crops.

As per the State Disaster Response Fund and National Disaster Response Fund norms, the compensation is Rs 6,800 for rain-fed, ₹13,500 for irrigated and ₹18,000 per hectare for multi-year crops. The government will provide additional amount for the hike. As per the order on Friday, the hike in compensation will be for the crop losses

CM asks officials to be ready for relief ops

CM Basavaraj Bommai on Friday directed DCs of flood-hit districts to be prepared for rescue and relief operations based on the weather forecast for the next five to six days. He ordered release of Rs 500 crore to take up infrastructure restoration works. During a video meet with DCs, he directed them to take up necessary steps for restoration of roads, power supply and drinking water facilities.

Bommai must answer woman praying for peace, harmony: DKS

MYSURU: KPCC chief DK Shivakumar has geared up his party workers to launch a padayatra to highlight the failures of the BJP government. Shivakumar with the family members offered prayers to deity Chamundeshwari and held meetings with party leaders, legislators, former MLAs and office bearers to mobilize people for Rahul Gandhi's Bharath Jodo padayatra that will enter Gundlupet in Karnataka from Kerala. He has asked the district Congress committee to organise a 75-km padayatra in all the districts to mark 75 years of Independence, exhibiting the contributions of the Congress. He suggested it should be a mega rally in Bengaluru on August 15.

Asked about a woman throwing the money given as relief to Siddaramaiah, and asking for peace and harmony, he said the woman should be questioning the CM who has taken an oath to uphold the Constitution as there is no wrong in asking for peace.

"JUSTICE should be meted out to both Hindus and Muslims. Everyone should behave like children of one mother. Only I know how much difficulty I am facing since the incident has taken place. Such a thing should not happen to any family. The miscreants responsible for the violence should be brought to book," demanded Rajma.

When asked why she refused the compensation amount, Rajma said, "In the incident, my husband, who is the sole breadwinner of our family, has been injured and the doctor has advised him year-long bed rest. I don't have any problem with compensation. I can run the family even by begging. I am confident that Hindus and Muslims will help me. We want peace, not goondaism in the town."

It may be recalled that a day after Kerur violence, a group of miscreants from a particular community attacked a dhaba owner and his employees near Kulageri cross. Four people were injured including Rajma's husband. All the injured are still being treated at a hospital. In Kerur violence, three activists were stabbed, who are also being treated at a private hospital in Bagalkot.

In all, 25 people have been arrested and sent in judicial custody.

The district police have arrested at least 25 people in connection with the violence. A total of five cases, two each by Hindus and Muslims and one by police have been filed in Kerur Police Station.

Speaking to reporters, Siddaramaiah said, "I have met the injured from both communities at the hospital. These kinds of incidents should not happen. We are all human beings and should live in harmony. The police have to take action against people who took law into their hands. All are equal before the law."

"I have directed the police officers to take stringent action against the culprits. I was closely following the incident and have been in touch with the SP, IGP and DG. It is the responsibility of the people's representatives to prevent such incidents from happening. Some people were seriously injured in the incident. The violence has affected the livelihood of many families," Siddaramaiah said.

Responding to Rajma's refusal to take the compensation amount, Siddaramaiah said, "I have convinced and given back the compensation to them. I have given it on humanitarian grounds. I can understand that this amount will not address all their problems. The government gives compensation to deceased families but do the victims get back their life?" asked the opposition leader.

Memorisation in NEP paper draws flak

The All India Save Education Committee has hit out against the NEP position paper 'Curriculum and Pedagogy' position paper for encouraging 'age-old memorisation' practices. The paper reads, "The memorizing technique with the comprehension will help in a deeper sense of self-realisation and also perceive interactions with nature thus there needs to be a clear stand from Karnataka to adopt the age-old memorisation practices without hampering the development of brain cells."

THE NEP 2020 is rightly going through a lot of discussion as we move towards building an acceptance of its basic principles. There are two important premises that the NEP envisions for our education system. These are that of being rooted in Indian ethos, and making India a global knowledge superpower. We examine this in the context of school education.

Compared to the general manner of providing school education today, the former requires a deeper understanding of the Indian ethos, while the latter requires a learning that can connect to the framework of knowledge that has come to be accepted globally. There is a greater acceptance of the latter premise, while the former is more under debate, not so much in the philosophy but more on how it is to be implemented. Many scholarly committees have gone into these aspects in greater depth. One of the committees has submitted a report to the Karnataka government in January 2022. The 'WhatsApp University' has also been playing its role in adding to the debate and sometimes causing confusion.

As an example, going by early Sanskrit literature, the knowledge of the relation between the hypotenuse and the two sides of the right-angled

G RAGHURAM

Principal Academic Advisor, National Rail & Transportation Institute

triangle seems to have been discovered in India independent of Pythagoras' discovery of the same. It could well be that it was discovered earlier in India, even raising the issue of whether the concept moved from India to Greece. The question now is whether we should rewrite our textbooks to talk of this as a concept from India and remove any reference to Pythagoras or give credit to both, not only to bring out a sense of pride in the Indian ethos, but also connect with the rest of the world where the scientific temper accepts and builds on this concept as originating from Pythagoras.

Similarly, should one give a concept of 'What is India' based on Vedic literature or the reality of today's political administration? Maybe both? Should one explain the etymology of place names or just the present reality? Maybe both, while explaining the changes created by external cultural influences?

While the concept of Brahmand as visualised by our own scientific seers could be in the curriculum, we should certainly expose our children to the discoveries that the James Webb Space Telescope enables.

There are aspects of Indian ethos which are universal, especially in the domains of philosophy, spirituality, socio-cultural behaviour and the arts which should find a place in the curriculum. In some of these domains, the Indian concepts are far ahead of what a large part of the rest of the world is still discovering. Some of these are concepts of a universal outlook, contentment, and action driven by goals but detached from results (nishkamakarma). One of the reasons why the Indian ethos, especially in science, has not got its recognition is inadequate documentation and lack of a scientific temper of building on prior knowledge.

The western world has moved far ahead on this aspect. Making India a global knowledge superpower will require building an enquiring mind with a scientific temper right from the school level. School education needs to move in the direction of more open-ended projects and a research ecosystem. It would be important that while we bring in the Indian ethos, we do not give up the emphasis on the current global reality.

MAVERICK ACTOR-DIRECTOR PRATAP POTHEN DIES AT 70

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

ACTOR, writer and filmmaker Prathap Potthen, who immortalised many characters in Malayalam, Tamil, Hindi and Telugu films in a career spanning 34 years, passed away on Friday. He was 70. Potthen, who also directed 12 movies in Tamil, Malayalam and Telugu, was found dead in his flat in Chennai following a heart attack, as per reports quoting his ex-wife, Amala. Born in Thiruvananthapuram in 1952, Potthen was working as a copywriter with a Mumbai-based advertising agency when filmmaker Bharathan offered him a prominent role in the Malayalam film Aaravam (1978). Impressed by Potthen's acting, Bharathan cast him in the titular role in Thakara (1979) written by Padmarajan. Potthen's exceptional performance as an immature person, matching late actor Nedomudi Venu's character Chellappanashari in every frame, was lauded by all. Bharathan went on to cast him in Chamaram (1980), written by John Paul. Padmarajan Novemberinte Nashtam (1982), directed by Padmarajan, was yet another film where his performance was appreciated.

Not one to confine himself to acting, Potthen made his directorial debut with the Tamil film Meendum Oru Kaathai Kathai (1985). Potthen and Radhika, who he married the same year, played the lead roles. Meendum Oru Kaathai Kathai (1985), which was noted for its 'superb craftsmanship', won the Indira Gandhi award for the 'best debut film of a director' at the 32nd National Film Awards.

He went on to direct three Malayalam films - Daisy (1988), Rithubhedam (1987) and, after a gap of nearly 10 years, Yathramozhi (1997). Yathramozhi, which tells the story of a father and son, was the first and last film in which acting maestros Sivaji Ganesan and Mohanlal shared screen space.

Potthen broke up with Radhika a year after their marriage. He married Amala Sathyanath in 1990 and the couple has a daughter Keya. The duo separated in 2012.

Known for his maverick streaks, Potthen disappeared from the movie scene after his 1995 Tamil film Lucky Man. He re-emerged in the 2012 Malayalam film 22 Female Kottayam, directed by Aashiq Abu. Abu later cast him in another prominent role in Idukki Gold (2013).

Potthen was in demand again and acted in a slew of movies. Mammooty-starrer CBI-5: The Brain, released in May, was his latest release. He also plays a role in the upcoming Barroz: Nidhi Kaakkum Bhootham, the directorial debut of Mohanlal.

Potthen's mortal remains will be cremated in Chennai on Saturday.

Parl session: KCR sounds war bugle

Has telephonic conversations with regional satraps to chalk out strategy to take on Centre

KALYAN CHAKRAVARTHY
@ Hyderabad

CHIEF Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao, the most vocal critic of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, worked the phone Friday to firm up a strategy to take on the Central government in the Monsoon Session of Parliament beginning July 18.

He had a telephonic conversation with West Bengal Chief Minister and TMC supremo Mamata Banerjee, Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal, NCP chief Sharad Pawar, RJD leader Tejaswi Yadav and Samajwadi Party leader Akhilesh Yadav.

The Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) president also spoke to the close aides of Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin, who is undergoing treatment for Covid at the Kauvery Hospital in Chennai, and enquired about his health.

The official release from the Chief Minister's Office said Rao has sounded the war bugle and is preparing to hold nationwide protests to "expose the true colours of the Centre." It talked of a "big battle" in the Parliament session and claimed a positive response to KCR's proposed democratic fight against the Centre.

Reliable sources told TNIE that though a wide range of topics came up during his discussions with the other regional satraps, the prominent issues on which they all agreed to stall Parliament were: a) the 50-page Lok Sabha Secretariat's booklet containing a list of "unparliamentary words" and b) the recent circular prohibiting dharnas, strikes, fast or performance of any religious ceremony in the precincts of the Parliament House.

The list of unparliamentary words includes taanashah, drama, ashamed, betrayed, abused, corrupt, incompetent -- which are commonly used. The opposition parties have already termed the Lok Sabha Secretariat move a "gag order", notwithstanding Speaker Om Birla's clarification that no word has been banned and the list was just a compilation of expunged words.

KCR, who is scheduled to hold the TRS Parliamentary Party meeting Saturday, appears to have finally decided to sail with the other opposition parties. His warm welcome to the Opposition's presidential candidate Yashwant Sinha in Hyderabad and his previous visits to Delhi too could be seen as steps in that direction.

His latest move to coordinate floor strategy with other opposition parties in Parliament reinforces the same. But, as one observer put it, the other regional satraps are yet to strike a rapport with the TRS chief -- given his history with the Congress and the BJP. KCR, according to him, needs to "implement confidence building measures" with them first. Moreso, as he is locked in a confrontation with both the BJP and the Congress.

Residents take their belongings to safety in Kunavaram in Alluri Sitarama Raju district, Andhra Pradesh, on Friday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Rajamahendravaram

THE situation in the five flood-affected districts of Alluri Sitarama Raju (ASR), Dr BR Ambedkar Konaseema, Eluru and the twin Godavari districts remained grim as third warning signal was issued on Thursday with the discharge level crossing 19 lakh mark.

As of 9 pm, the flood discharge levels stood at 21.68 lakh cusecs, the highest in the recent past. Water level at the Dowleswaram barrage stood at 19.30 feet. It is expected to cross the 21-feet mark by Saturday. Flood discharge levels might rise to anywhere between 25 lakh and 28 lakh cusecs, once the heavy inflows from Bhadrachalam reach the barrage.

Stating that the Sir Arthur Cotton Barrage could receive discharge levels of up to 30 lakh cusecs in the next two to four days, Flood Conservator Kasi Visveswara Rao asserted that the situation did not pose a threat to the structure of the barrage.

All 175 gates had been opened to discharge surplus water, Rao said, cautioning the island villages that are already facing the flood fury of a possibility of a higher threat.

Due to incessant rains in the catchment areas, Godavari has been receiving heavy inflow over the past four days, the surplus water is being released into the sea through the three tributaries - Gowthami, Vasishta and Vynathaya. Officials are now focusing on strengthening the weak points on the flood banks of the river. Security has been beefed up at all ghats in Rajamahendravaram and four-wheelers were prohibited to commute on the barrage.

The flood has affected five lakh people, including those displaced due to the Polavaram Project, in five districts along the Godavari basin.

The Polavaram upper cofferdam recorded floodwater level at 36 metres and discharge level at 20 lakh cusecs.

The AP Disaster Management Authority noted that once the flood discharge levels touch 22 lakh cusecs, 628 villages in 44 mandals of five districts would be affected.

According to officials, 64 island villages were inundated in Konaseema and both Godavari districts. Despite such a situation, several people in river islets refused to evacuate the marooned villages, leading to chaos. Over 62,000 people were evacuated.

Monkeypox: Spl alert in 5 Kerala dists

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ T'Puram

A day after Monkeypox (MPX) was confirmed in a UAE-returnee, the health department on Friday issued special alerts for five districts, including Kollam, the native district of the patient.

The move comes after it was found that 163 people, including 35 Kollam natives and those hailing from Thiruvananthapuram, Alappuzha, Pathanamthitta and Kottayam districts, had travelled with the patient on the Sharjah-Thiruvananthapuram IndiGo flight (6E 1402) that landed here at 5pm on July 12.

"All of them will be monitored for symptoms such as fever. They will be tested for Covid and Monkeypox depending on the symptoms," said Health Minister Veena George after a high-level meeting that aimed to find out ways to contain the viral infection. She said directives had been issued to set up isolation wards in all districts and special arrangements will be made in medical colleges.

"Health workers will monitor the health of all the passengers until they complete the 21-day incubation period. All the districts have been asked to maintain vigil," said Veena, who has also ordered to strengthen surveillance at airports as more passengers may arrive from countries where MPX has been reported.

"A state-level monitoring cell will also be operational," she said.

As many as 11 passengers who sat near the patient in the flight have been put in the 'high-risk' contact list.

RAINING MISERY

Minutes before roof falls, headmaster moves kids to safety

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Athani

AS many as 80 schoolchildren of a government school at Parathalli village in Athani taluk had a narrow escape on Friday morning, thanks to the presence of mind of their headmaster who shifted the students in the nick of time after noticing the dilapidated condition of the roof of their classroom. Within 30 minutes after the Class 8 students were shifted, the roof came crashing down.

The headmaster, R V Rathod, was inspecting the school premises, when he noticed the leaking roof of the classroom. He told the teacher, in-charge of the class, to immediately shift the students to another classroom.

Block Education Officer (BEO) Basavaraj Talawar visited the school and found that another classroom in the school has leakage. Talawar said around 200 classrooms of government schools across Athani taluk are damaged. He said that he has already sent a report in this regard to the government and is waiting for its response.

Meanwhile, the parents of the children have demanded an inquiry into the roof collapse incident. They said that the school building is not even 10 years old. "How can the roof of the school collapse in such a short time after it was built. The construction of the school is of sub-standard quality, which is unsafe for our children. We want a thorough inquiry into the incident," he said.

12-yr-old girl dies as power cable falls on her in Dharwad dist

MALLIKARJUN HIREMATH @ Dharwad

IN a tragic incident, a 12-year-old girl died after a power cable fell on her at Parasapur village in Kalghatgi taluk on Friday. The deceased, Simran Banu Badiger, was washing utensils in front of her house when a power line snapped and fell on her. Eyewitnesses said sparks flew and the cable got cut into two pieces, following which the girl tried to run away but could not.

A police officer in Kalghatgi said in a span of five years, ten deaths have been reported in the taluk due to such incidents. He stressed on the need for people to be cautious. "If any dangling cable or danger is noticed, people should immediately alert the police or HESCOM staff", he said. HESCOM engineer B Honnurappa said electric poles are slanting due to the impact of heavy rain and winds, which lead to such incidents.

Alleging negligence towards the taluk by the authorities concerned, a resident of Kalghatgi said, in 2019, three people died in their fields as they came in contact with dangling power lines. Every year the taluk witnesses such deaths for the same reason. "Lack of spot inspections by the concerned HESCOM staff is leading to such incidents. After installing new power supply cables, officials should inspect the work done", he said.

Despite repeated representations to HESCOM officials by the public, requesting proper maintenance of power lines and poles, such mishaps are reoccurring, he said.

Man commits suicide, blames cop for death

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayapura

THE sub-inspector of APMC Police Station has been suspended after a 25-year-old man committed suicide alleging that the PSI and his brother are the reason behind his death.

The victim, Somnath Nagamothi (25), was employed in a private car service centre. He is survived by his parents and wife. The incident came to light on Thursday. He hailed from Donur village. His body was found in Krishna River, near the Baluti Jackwell of Kolhar town, five days after he went missing. The deceased's wife, Bhagyashree, had filed a missing complaint in Gandhi Chowk Police Station on July 9.

Before taking the extreme step, Somnath had gone live on Facebook. In the video, he reportedly said, "I have not stolen any money from the PSI's vehicle. The police have not only made fake allegations against me but also attacked me. I will be ending my life. The following people will be responsible for my death: PSI Somesh Gejji, Sachin Gejji, brother of PSI and Santosh D and Ravi D, owner of Shivagiri Tyres."

According to sources, "Sachin Gejji had given his car for wheel alignment at Sivagiri Tyres, where Somnath worked. There was Rs 7.5 lakh cash in the car. After the service, Rs 1 lakh out of Rs 7.5 lakh was lost. The PSI and his brother alleged that the missing sum was taken by Somnath."

"He was called to the police station multiple times. During interrogation, he was reportedly manhandled. He got upset and ended his life," claimed sources. Apart from the missing complaint, no other complaint has been registered against PSI Somesh and his brother.

Sacking of 2 principals: Govt urged to intervene

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH two principals from two major schools in Bengaluru suspended by the Karnataka Central Diocese, it is not clear how the schools are functioning with parents worried about the manner of suspension. Several church patrons and parents submitted a memorandum to Primary and Secondary Education Minister B C Nagesh for the state government to intervene in the matter. However, there was no response from the government.

Meanwhile, the handling of the issue by the diocese in suspending the two principals without any intimation to the parents of the school students has raised many eyebrows.

While the reason for the suspension has been kept under wraps, the diocese termed the suspension an 'internal matter'. The principals have not issued any statement so far.

Order bad in law: Activist

"If anyone disturbs government employees during office hours, there are many laws to take action against them. Instead of using those laws, it is not a good practice to ban photographs and videos. This only shows the government wants to hide its corrupt practices," Sid-daramaiah said.

RTI activist P Kalidas Reddy told The New Indian Express that government offices are not private properties owned by some individuals. It is public property and one cannot put restrictions. He however said steps can be taken if there is misuse.

Vinay Srinivas of NGO Alternative Law Forum, questioned the government on what rational basis it has issued this order when there is no such law. "Does it mean they are trying to hide something," he asked. Instead of bringing transparency, the government is trying to hide things, he added.

WILL RISHI SUNAK BREAK THE GLASS CEILING?

The rising star of British politics, Rishi Sunak, has won the first two rounds of voting in the race for the country's prime ministership. The contest is narrowing down to him and Trade Minister Penny Mordaunt. Foreign secretary Liz Truss is still hot on their heels. This initial vote reflects the preference of Members of Parliament belonging to the Conservative Party. His real test, however, would be the final face-off with Mordaunt in the party vote. Once the list of prime ministerial hopefuls comes down to two, the fee-paying grassroots members of the Tory party will cast the final vote to select one of the two short-listed candidates as Prime Minister.

It is here that Sunak would face the burden of history. The overwhelmingly white United Kingdom voters have never chosen a non-white as their Prime Minister. Most of the nearly two lakh Tory grassroots members are conservative and white men and over sixty years of age. Opinion polls among them have placed Mordaunt ahead of Sunak though the latter enjoys the support of numerous party MPs.

The bulk of the Tory members belong to the right. Boris Johnson stormed into office in 2019 on the wave of English nationalism with the slogan 'Get Brexit Done'. In the last vote, he secured 66% support of the grassroots members and his rival Jeremy Hunt, a little over 33%. Hunt has now thrown in his lot behind Rishi. But Johnson still enjoys considerable support among party members. Sunak played it smart by refusing to criticise Johnson at his first campaign event, even describing him as the "most remarkable person" he has met.

The gesture was aimed at mollifying Johnson supporters among party members who blame him for triggering the Prime Minister's resignation. Sunak's bold gambit of quitting the post of Chancellor of the Exchequer by taking the high ground of integrity and transparency won him huge support among his party MPs. But will the tactic equally impress the grassroots party members is the question.

NIGHT OWLS IN TN WANT FUN AFTER MIDNIGHT

A 4-year-old legal fight by a roadside eatery owner from Kilpauk in the heart of Chennai is yet to reach its logical conclusion. He sought the court's intervention to run his eatery till 1.30 a.m. His complaint was simple: Cops apparently force him to down the shutters by 10.30 p.m., citing the possibility of anti-social elements and unruly customers creating law-and-order problems at night.

In May 2019, the Tamil Nadu government permitted shops to remain open for 24 hours on all days of the week. But the implementation was patchy. The Madras High Court, in its February 2022 order, chastised the cops saying they ended up infringing upon the constitutional right of restaurant owners as well as the fundamental right of consumers, both an integral part of the right to life guaranteed under Article 21 of the constitution. Tamil Nadu came up with a fresh order a few months ago, permitting shops and commercial establishments to remain open 24x7. However, a sense of ennui seems to have enveloped the city. The order slipped in a few stipulations. One was that the details of each employee should be exhibited by the employer in a conspicuous place. Another is that women employees should not be required to work beyond 8 p.m. on any day in normal circumstances. The rider is that the employer can allow women employees to work past that time only with their written consent, and after providing transportation facilities and adequate safety.

While these rules, introduced to fix the onus on the employer, didn't go well with many, what played spoilsport were the persistent excesses by the police. The overindulgence by a corrupt few in uniform and their moral policing have thrown a wet blanket over the government's ambitious plans. The police have continued to harass the eatery owners and threaten them with fake cases, forcing their state association to approach the director-general of police to find a final solution. The DGP has ordered commissioners and superintendents of police across the state to allow shops, malls and eateries to remain open 24 hours and not force them to close after midnight. Let's hope justice prevails.

He fled the island as the country's chief executive to go down in the island's political history as the first president to be ousted from office through a popular uprising

#GOTTAGO: WHY LANKA'S IRON MAN HIT MELTING POINT

The resignation of Sri Lanka's 8th president Gotabaya Rajapaksa took place under unusual circumstances. After three months of continuous public protests demanding his resignation, the ex-military officer-turned politician, credited for leading a ruthless military offensive to crush the Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam (LTTE) in 2009, eventually fled his island home fearing for life.

His exit was dramatic and similar to an episode from a suspense thriller. Amidst palpable public anger, airport officials refused to facilitate his departure via Sri Lanka's main international airport, the Bandaranaike International Airport (BIA), forcing Gotabaya and his wife Ioma to secure passage to the Maldives on a military jet. He was greeted by angry street protests by Sri Lankans working there. Incidentally, Gotabaya created aviation history as his flight from Male to Singapore became the world's most tracked flight in real-time.

His departure creates a temporary impasse. The Sri Lankan Constitution never envisaged the possibility of a fugitive president on the run. He fled the island as the country's chief executive to go down in the island's political history as the first president to be ousted from office (through a popular uprising), the first to flee the country and to tender his resignation from overseas.

Gotabaya as fugitive president is in stark contrast to his image as a ruthless leader who not just crushed the LTTE but civil liberties at will and was feared by sections of the population, including Tamil and Muslim minorities as well as dissenting journalists.

Three years ago, when Gotabaya Rajapaksa presented himself as the presidential candidate, he evoked strongly divided emotions of admiration or great dislike/fear. Credited for leading the island's war effort towards crushing the LTTE militarily, a separatist outfit that had for decades fought for a separate homeland in Sri Lanka's northeast, it was expected that Gotabaya would rule with an iron hand and in military style. The island's Sinhala Buddhist majority gave him an overwhelming mandate in 2020, expecting the "no-nonsense" president to create a path towards prosperity in which the ethnic majority would enjoy priority. His official website says: "Now is the time to embrace nationalism. Love your country, play your part in the future."

Yet, at the end of 31 months of his rule, Gotabaya left office as a failed leader whose inefficiency and lack of management skills pushed the country towards complete collapse and unprecedented economic woes.

To be fair, his presidency was marred by the multiple impacts of the Covid-19 pandemic, loss of tourism, and an economic meltdown precipitated by imprudent decisions ranging from a ban on importing chemical fertiliser and a balance of payments crisis that he failed to manage and made worse by reducing taxes to appease the masses. Long before the country's political activists, rights groups and youth drove massive mass mobilisations against him, it was the farmers who began protests owing to the lack of chemical fertilizers. Gotabaya, known for his obstinacy and political arrogance, failed to see how sections of the public that once hailed him as their leader were rapidly turning against him. As much as the calls for accountability transparency and better governance, it was Gotabaya's failure to provide the people with essentials such as fuel, gas, medical supplies and food that eventually brought about his fall from grace. His attempts to get a financial bailout and reschedule the Chinese loans and strike an agreement with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and other international lending agencies further aggravated the financial crisis at home. That quickly turned into a massive political crisis.

His period as defence secretary during his brother Mahinda Rajapaksa's decade as president gave him an image of a warrior and a quick decision-maker, albeit a hawkish leader. In this period not less than 13 journalists were murdered, including Lasantha Wickrematunga, the founding editor of The Sunday Leader who exposed corrupt military deals under Rajapaksa's watch. That enraged him. He publicly ridiculed Wickrematunga and continuously dismissed allegations of killing, abducting or disappearing journalists and activists. He was dubbed the "white van man", a reference to his alleged links to white-coloured vans used for abducting people. Part of Gotabaya's legacy is not just the crushing of the LTTE but also how he undermined the rights of the ethnic Tamil community and his refusal to pursue a path of peace and reconciliation after the war's end or to cooperate with the international community to improve the human rights record. The UN estimated that over 40,000 civilians who surrendered during the final phase of the war were killed. Rajapaksa rejected allegations of war crimes, but they always hung over his head like the sword of Damocles.

Besides their strong-arm politics, the Rajapaksas were shrewd manipulators of popular sentiment and used Sinhala Buddhist nationalism to gain political office. This approach was used to suppress both ethnic and religious minorities, curb civil liberties and crush dissent

Besides their strong-arm politics, the Rajapaksas were shrewd manipulators of popular sentiment and used Sinhala Buddhist nationalism to gain political office. This approach was used to suppress both ethnic and religious minorities, curb civil liberties and crush dissent. Assuming presidency in 2020, Gotabaya Rajapaksa spoke of being elected purely on the Sinhala Buddhist vote and claimed that his victory debunked the myth that it was impossible to elect a president purely on the Sinhala Buddhist vote.

Like Mahinda, Gotabaya too mobilised people using majoritarianism. But three years into office, the same forces evidently turned against him, even supporting Marxist protesters, to oust the president they elevated to high office. Much like Mahinda, he also nurtured family politics and was committed to building the Rajapaksa dynasty further. Using his impressive mandate, he reversed several democratic gains made through a previous constitutional amendment. He consolidated presidential powers, removed the two-term restriction on the presidency and paved the way for dual citizens to hold public office, thus creating a window for brother Basil, a US citizen, to enter parliament. Gotabaya improved on the nepotism project by appointing Mahinda Prime Minister and his other two siblings, Chamal and Basil, to key positions. Between May and July 15, anti-government protesters forced a series of resignations from all the Rajapaksa brothers, showing how peoples' revolution can bring down the country's most powerful political dynasty.

With his vacation of office, there now exists a man once hailed as the one who freed the island from the tyranny of the LTTE and loved by large sections of the Sinhala Buddhist population. At least for now, Sri Lankans like to believe that they broke the Rajapaksa's stranglehold on national politics and defeated the island's biggest nepotism project.

THE BAN ON SINGLE-USE PLASTICS

This morning a little girl gave me a plastic-wrapped sweet to celebrate her birthday. She waited till I opened the wrapper, popped the sweet into my mouth and told her that it was very sweet. She ran away leaving me with the wrapper. Coming from a famous company, the wrapper was well over 100 microns in thickness. But it is still limited to a single use. How could I reuse a sticky plastic sweet wrapper? Or a biscuit packet wrapper? Or a milk sachet?

When I first kept house, I would shop from the nearest kirana store. The shopkeeper would weigh the rice, daal, etc., and pack each in an old newspaper rolled into a cone and tied with a thick string. Then came the supermarkets. The kiranas closed down and everything—milk, rice, dhal, spices—were packed and sold in plastic bags. They may be over 100 microns, but after the housewife empties each item into her containers, she throws the plastic bags away. Shops are not allowed to give plastic bags. Instead, they charge between ₹5 and ₹10 for a thick plastic bag. That just makes it one more way of making money. A biodegradable alternative is a recycled paper bag. Since you cannot charge money for it, it is rarely used in large shops and supermarkets.

Plastics are a petroleum by-product, with a wide range of synthetic and semi-synthetic materials which use polymer as the primary ingredient. They can be moulded, extruded or pressed into different shapes due to their plasticity. But plastics are not degradable and can live in the soil or water for thousands of years. Today, plastic waste has become the biggest problem in the world, destroying ecosystems and animal lives and even creating a plastic island in the ocean. There are a few thousand chemicals involved in the production of plastics. Many are carcinogenic. One can avoid ingesting carcinogens by using natural materials. Animals eat food waste thrown away in plastic bags. That affects their digestive system, leading to their death. Cattle in cities and elephants in the wild succumb in this manner: Discarded plastic nets force freshwater dolphins to drown. Birds pick up plastic to build their nests, ending with plastic rope wounds around their legs. Over a million birds die every year after ingesting plastics. Annually, over 400 million tonnes of plastic products are produced. Restaurants in Chennai, for example, use nearly 5,250 kgs of plastic daily to pack takeaways. Globally, 50 billion bottles of water are bought each year, of which 80% end up in landfills.

Tiny pieces of plastic, barely visible to the naked eye, are milling around the seas and oceans. These particles are known as microplastics and are formed when large plastic objects such as shopping bags and food containers break down. Microplastics are minuscule and easy for wildlife to consume, whether deliberately or accidentally. A garbage truck full of plastic ends up in the ocean every minute, killing over a million species each year. Plastics transfer from fish to the plate and their potential effects on human health can be devastating.

Plastic waste also affects soil fertility. Improper plastic waste disposal blocks the drainage systems of our cities, leading to flooding and

The plastic industry says there is no evidence of risk, but the absence of evidence does not mean evidence of absence. The chemicals that go into the construction of plastics are sufficient evidence of the health risks providing a breeding place for mosquitoes, causing mosquito-borne diseases. Discarded plastic bags prevent rainwater from seeping into the ground. Only 7% of plastics are recycled. Burning plastic releases poisonous chemicals that damage the health of humans and the planet. Black carbon is released, which has a global warming potential of up to 5,000 times more than carbon dioxide.

There are alternatives. The simplest is the cloth or jute bag. Shops can use bags made of old newspapers or recycled paper. Food can be packed in the leaves of banana or mandarai plants. Mandarai leaves will not let even liquids leak through. Supermarkets can weigh grains and lentils and pack them in recycled paper bags. There are biodegradable alternatives for everything. Forty years ago, before segregation became fashionable, the C P Ramaswami Aiyar Foundation separated biodegradable and non-biodegradable waste by keeping two large bins—one was green, and another was made of aluminium. While the biodegradable waste went into a vermin-composting pit or corporation garbage truck, the non-biodegradable waste was (and still is) picked up every Saturday by a rag picker. It is not very difficult. Banning single-use plastics is not enough. The world has to find biodegradable alternatives and decrease the use of plastics. Very few people segregate their trash and most do not know how to. Multi-coloured trash cans are essential and people should learn what trash goes into which can. Even school children are not taught about the mal-effects of plastics on the environment. Television channels fleetingly mentioned the ban on single-use plastic on July 1, 2022, many without giving the reason.

Governments everywhere have ignored the expanding use of plastics in food, cosmetics, water cans, bottles, etc. The plastic industry says there is no evidence of risk, but the absence of evidence does not mean evidence of absence. The chemicals that go into the construction of plastics are sufficient evidence of the health risks involved. The success of the single-use plastic ban is doubtful, considering the lack of implementation of laws in India, especially environmental laws.

The world is looking to halt climate change. Reducing plastic use helps reduce environmental degradation and halts climate change. Driving along highways, on the hillside, along the coast and in cities, one cannot ignore the ugly sight of mounds of plastic. When the monsoon arrives, the plastic mounds halt the passage of rainwater underground, causing floods and leading to disease and water shortages. Unless we think green, go green and act green, our world will continue to be a massive garbage bin. (nankrishna18@gmail.com)

First monkeypox case

This is with reference to the news State reports India's first Monkeypox case (July 15). It is heartening to know that the government has taken immediate steps to be vigilant after isolating the sick passenger from Kerala who is suspected to be carrying Monkeypox. It is also the primary duty of the people to be alert and take precautionary measures to overcome this new virus. After all, prevention is surely better than cure, isn't it?
Karthi, Madurai

Respect all religions

This is with reference to the editorial Coming to terms with the "new" Hindu (July 15). I agree with the columnist's points; Hindus these days are expected to be very accepting, calm and meek. Individuals from other religions can be more assertive with their demands unlike Hindus. Everyone should give and receive respect.

Bad or good words?

The list compiled by the Lok Sabha

Secretariat defines what words fall into the bracket of 'unparliamentary'. It mentions words like 'drama', 'hypocrisy', and 'Snoogate'. While I think it is an important precautionary measure, I also wonder how a lively debate can take place without using certain words. For instance, what set of words could we possibly use for neighbours like China and Pakistan if not 'hypocrisy'?
Haribandhu Panigrahi, Tarbha

Speak for the people

Some members of parliament are objecting to dharnas being banned. Isn't parliament a place for healthy discussions that contribute to the betterment of society? TMC MPs should remember that they have been elected by the people as representatives of public interest. Instead of just blindly opposing what the government says or does, they should really start to work to solve the problems of people.

P Venkateswar Rao, Hyderabad

Reducing road accidents

This is with reference to Rode motorbike

at 16, youth must wait till 25 for licence as court acts strict (July 15). I appreciate the verdict of the court. However, what is worrying is that laws cannot only be confined to documents. They need to be in practice. We have a lot to learn from countries like Singapore when it comes to law enforcement. Strict traffic and vehicle rules will also reduce accidents in our country. The Court's verdict is an eye-opener for all. Let this be a lesson for juvenile riders. If enforced, it will surely save a lot of lives.

'No dharna in Parliament' order triggers spat

Howls of protest by Oppn over circular issued by RS secretariat; govt says such directions not issued for first time

CC
The more useless the government, the more cowardly it is. Democracy is being mocked, by issuing such dictatorial orders. Protest in the Parliament House Complex is a political right of the MPs which is being violated

CC
My appeal to all parties is that in Parliament or state assemblies they should abstain from making charges and counter-charges without ascertaining the facts. Our endeavour should be to strengthen democratic institutions

Om Birla, LS Speaker

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AFTER the new list of "unparliamentary" words created a buzz ahead of Parliament's monsoon session, a direction by the Rajya Sabha secretariat banning dharnas, protest and demonstrations inside the precincts of Parliament had the Opposition breathing fire on Friday. The Centre, however, said such directions are routine and have always been in place.

Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla insisted that such notices were being issued for years and the RS secretariat, too, reiterated the same.

Seeking cooperation from members, the bulletin issued by Rajya Sabha Secretary General P C Mody said, "Members cannot use the precincts of the Parliament House for any demonstration, dharna, strike, fast or for the purpose of performing any religious ceremony."

But the Opposition went hammer and tongs against the government. "Vishguru's latest salvo - D(h)arna Mana Hai!" tweeted Congress chief whip in the Rajya Sabha Jairam Ramesh, sharing a copy of the circular.

"What a farce. The attempts to muzzle the soul of India, its democracy and its very voice will fall flat. The more useless the government, the more cowardly it is. Democracy is being mocked, by issuing such dictatorial orders. Protesting in the Parliament House Complex is a political right of the MPs which is being violated," tweeted CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury.

RJD leader and Rajya Sabha MP Manoj Jha demanded immediate withdrawal of order. "Bringing a Parliamentary Bulletin to say that we cannot hold a dharna inside the Parliament. It is an attempt to take parliamentary democracy to the grave. We demand that the Lok Sabha Speaker and the Rajya Sabha Chairman should intervene immediately," said Jha.

The BJP hit back saying that similar orders were issued by the UPA government in 2013 and 2014.

"Who issued circulars that there would be no dharnas in Parliament? UPA. We know Congress has a marginalised presence in Parliament but the least they can do is remember their own track record while in office. Or has it been too long?" tweeted BJP's IT cell head Amit Malviya.

'Such directions issued before every session'

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

ACCORDING to former Secretary General of the Lok Sabha PDT Achary, the row over the direction against holding protests in Parliament complex is uncalled for as it's a routine process. "The secretariat issues general directions on the eve of every session. Along with the dos and don'ts, the bulletin says the premises of the House shouldn't be used for demonstrations or protests," said Achary.

Referring to the protests over the 'banned' words, he said the list is periodically updated and contains expressions which have been treated as unparliamentary by the Speaker in the past.

"The LS secretariat published a booklet in 2010 when I was the secretary general. There are common words like liar or abusive words which are considered unparliamentary," he said, but agreed that words like 'abuse' or 'corruption' are commonly used and need not be removed or expunged.

BJP Parliamentary Board meet today to pick V-P candidate

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE BJP Parliamentary Board will meet on Saturday to pick its Vice-Presidential candidate. The ruling NDA's nominee has an upper hand in the election as it enjoys a majority in the electoral college.

Sources said the BJP will also reach out to various parties to seek a consensus over the choice of the candidate. However, the leaders of Opposition parties will meet on Sunday to discuss their own Vice-Presidential candidate.

The Congress has anointed Mallikarjun Kharge, Leader of Opposition in the Rajya Sabha, to reach out to all Opposition leaders to find a consensus candidate. The party has already made it clear that it is not fielding a candidate. With the numbers in favour of the ruling bloc, the contest will be a symbolic one.

The members of the BJP Parliamentary Board include Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union ministers Amit Shah, Rajnath Singh and Nitin Gadkari and party president J P Nadda, among others. Though many names are doing the rounds for the V-P candidature, the frontrunner appears to be Mukhtar Abbas Naqvi, who resigned as Union Minority Affairs Minister last month.

The electoral college for picking the V-P consists of members of the Lok Sabha and the Rajya Sabha members. Out of Parliament's current strength of 780, the BJP has a clear edge as it has 394 MPs, more than the majority mark of 390.

Monkey pox: Worried Centre's fresh guidelines

As the world is still reeling under the impact of Covid-19 that stretched healthcare systems across all countries and ravaged even the biggest of economies, a new medical challenge has emerged before it: monkey pox. With the dreaded disease creating havoc in large parts of Europe and Africa, a worried Centre has sounded an on alert a day after India reported its first case of monkey pox on Thursday. The government, which had already issued an advisory on Thursday, released a list of fresh guidelines for international travellers on Friday.

INTERNATIONAL PASSENGERS SHOULD AVOID:

Close contact with sick people

Contact with dead or live animals including rodents (rats, squirrels) and non-human primates (monkeys, apes)

Eating or preparing meat from wild game (bushmeat) or using products derived from wild animals from Africa (creams, lotions, powders)

Contact with contaminated material used by sick people such as clothing, bedding or materials used in healthcare settings or that came into contact with infected animals

HOW IS IT TRANSMITTED?

■ Monkey pox virus is transmitted from infected animals to humans via indirect or direct contact

■ Human-to-human transmission can occur through direct contact with infectious skin or lesions, including face-to-face, skin-to-skin, and respiratory droplets

■ In the current outbreak countries and amongst the reported monkey pox cases, transmission appears to be occurring primarily through close physical contact, including sexual contact

■ Transmission can also occur from contaminated materials such as linens, bedding, electronics, clothing, that have infectious skin particles

CONSULT NEAREST HEALTH FACILITY IMMEDIATELY IF:

■ You are in an area where monkeypox has been reported

■ You have had contact with a person that might have had monkeypox

SCARE ACROSS GLOBE

■ 6,000 cases of monkeypox and three deaths have been reported from across 60 countries since the beginning of the year, according to the World Health Organisation

■ India reported its first case on Thursday when a 35-year-old man arrived in Kerala from the United Arab Emirates (UAE) three days ago and tested positive for the viral disease

Zubair gets bail as court okays dissent

ANKITA UPADHYAY @ New Delhi

STATING that the voice of dissent is necessary for a healthy democracy, Delhi's Patiala House Court on Friday granted bail to fact-checking site Alt News' co-founder Mohammed Zubair in connection with the 2018 tweet case, weeks after he was arrested.

Zubair though will still remain in jail as other courts in Uttar Pradesh have remanded him in custody.

"The voice of dissent is necessary for healthy democracy. Therefore, merely for the criticism of any political parties it is not justified to invoke section 153A and 295A of Indian Penal Code," the order read.

The court made the observa-

tions in the context of the allegation that Zubair had tweeted an image along with two words 'Before 2014' and 'After 2014'. Special Public Prosecutor Atul Srivastava had argued that the words 'Before 2014' and 'After 2014' pointed towards the ruling political party to show the state of affairs in a prejudicial manner.

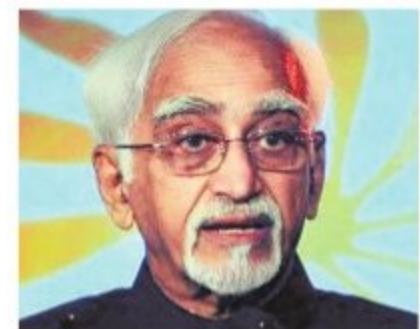

"Democracy can neither work nor prosper unless people go out to share their views. Article 19(1)(a) of the Constitution of India gives freedom of speech and expression to its citizen," Judge Devender Kumar Jangala said. He added that the police failed to establish the identity of the Twitter user who lodged the complaint against the accused.

BJP sharpens attack on Cong over Pak scribe's claims

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE BJP on Friday accused the opposition Congress of having played with national security by granting visa to a Pakistani journalist who has revealed some information about the role of the Inter Services Intelligence, Pakistan's spy agency, in India. Nusrat Mirza had recently claimed in a YouTube interview that he visited India five times during the UPA rule and passed on sensitive information to the ISI.

At a press conference on Friday, BJP spokesperson Gaurav Bhatia showed a purported picture of former Vice-President Hamid Ansari sharing a stage with Mirza at a 2009 conference on terrorism held in India.

Stepping up attack on Ansari, BJP spokesperson Gaurav Bhatia said: "Had Hamid Ansari wanted, he could have said that a person like Mirza should not have been invited to the conference on terrorism. He could

Supreme Court to hear BCCI plea to allow change in its constitution

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday said that it would hear the plea filed by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) seeking to amend its constitution with regard to the tenure of its office-bearers, including president Sourav Ganguly and secretary Jay Shah, next week.

A bench of Chief Justice N V Ramana and Krishna Murari was told by senior advocate P S Patwalia, appearing for the BCCI, that their application was filed two years ago and direction was given by the court to list the matter after two weeks.

"But then Covid happened and matter could not be listed. Please list this matter for urgent hearing because amendments to the constitution are in pipeline for two years now," he said.

Patwalia said the earlier order of the court says amendment to the constitution can only be done with prior permission of the court. The bench said it will see that the matter is listed for next week.

The Justice R M Lodha led committee had recommended reforms in the BCCI which have been accepted by the SC. According to the recommendations, there should be a three-year cooling off period for the office-bearers of the BCCI after a tenure of six years once a post comes to an end at the state cricket association or at the BCCI level.

The BCCI, in its proposed amendment, has sought abolition of the cooling off period for its office-bearers which would enable BCCI president Ganguly and secretary Shah to continue in office despite them having completed six years at respective state cricket associations.

The constitution of BCCI stipulates a mandatory three-year cooling off period for anyone who had served two consecutive terms of three years each in state cricket association or in BCCI. While Ganguly was an office-bearer in the Cricket Association of Bengal, Shah had served in the Gujarat Cricket Association

SENIOR Supreme Court Justice UU Lalit on Friday suggested starting the court proceedings early at 9 am. If children can go to school at 7 in the morning, why cannot judges and lawyers start their day at 9 am, Justice Lalit stated while hearing a bail matter.

A bench of Justices Lalit, S Ravindra Bhat and Sudhanshu Dhulia on Friday started Friday's work at 9.30 am, an hour earlier than the usual working hour of the apex court.

Justice Lalit, who is next in line to become the Chief Justice of India, said, "In my view, ideally we should sit at 9 in the morning. I have always said that if our children can go to school at 7 in the morning, then why can't we come at 9 am?"

The remark came after senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi, appearing in one of the bail matters, lauded the bench at the end of the hearing of the case for sitting earlier than the usual time. He further said, "I must say that this time of 9.30 am is a more proper time to start the courts."

Justice Lalit said if the courts can start early, it can finish the day's work early and judges would get more time in the evening to read the case files for the next day. "The courts can start their work at 9 am and rise at 11.30 am for a half an hour break and then finish the day's work by 2 pm. By doing this, judges will get more time to do more things in the evening," Justice Lalit said, adding this arrangement could work when there are only fresh matters and cases that don't require lengthy hearings.

Rohatgi said that these arrangements could hopefully be seen more by the end of August. To this, Justice Lalit said, "This is just a capsule."

The judges of the Supreme Court hear cases from 10.30 am to 4 pm on weekdays. CJI N V Ramana is set to retire on August 26 after which Justice Lalit will take over and remain in office till November 8 this year.

Kanishka attack accused shot dead in Canada

Ripudaman Singh Malik was killed in 'possible targeted shooting', say police

HARPREET BAIWA @Chandigarh

THE murder of Ripudaman Singh Malik, a Canadian Sikh businessman acquitted in the 1985 Air India bombing that killed 329 people, was a "possible targeted shooting," Canadian officials said.

Malik (75), a former supporter of Khalistani movement, was shot dead in British Columbia on Thursday apparently by a masked man who carried guns in his both hands.

Malik and co-accused Ajaib Singh Bagri were acquitted of murder and conspiracy charges in 2005 in the 1985 Air India Kanishka bombing case.

The killing of Malik took place as he sat inside his car.

After his acquittal, Malik had resumed his leadership roles at Khalsa Credit Union and Satnam Education Society, which operates several Khalsa schools across Canada. He was running many businesses, including Papillon Eastern Imports, a clothing company.

The Canadian police stated, "We are aware of Malik's background, though at this time we are still working to determine the motive. We can confirm that the shooting appears to be targeted." The police confirmed his identity after Malik's son, Jaspreet Singh Malik, made a statement on social media.

Paramjit Singh Sarna, Shiromani Akali Dal (Delhi) chief, mourned Malik's death. "The loss is irreparable. Malik ran many Khalsa schools and was at the forefront of humanitarian efforts in Canada," he said.

Assam, Arunachal sign pact on border row

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

A boundary line delineated in 1960 by a committee will be the basis for the realignment of Assam and Arunachal Pradesh interstate boundary as the two states attempt to solve their longstanding border disputes.

Assam CM Himanta Biswa Sarma and his Arunachal counterpart Pema Khandu held their third meeting on the disputes at Namsai in Arunachal on Friday. Later, they jointly issued the 'Namsai Declaration'. It reads: "This declaration is signed between the states of Assam and Arunachal Pradesh on July 15, 2022 at Namsai, Arunachal Pradesh to minimize the border dispute between the two states in respect of 123 villages placed before the Local Commission by Arunachal Pradesh..."

After the first two meetings held between the two CMs on Jan. 24 and April 20 this year, it was decided inter alia that all border issues would be confined to those raised before the Local Commission in 2007.

"The boundary line delineated and signed on the 29 toposheets by the High-Powered Tripartite Committee as notified boundary during the year 1960 would be taken as the basis for realignment of boundary by both states," the declaration reads.

Both states decided to constitute 12 "regional committees", each covering 12 districts of Arunachal and the counterpart districts of Assam for joint verification of 123 villages. They will make their recommendations to the respective governments keeping in view the historical perspective, administrative convenience, contiguity and people's will to delineate the interstate boundary.

Amid outrage, Mahua clarifies 'Mr Gogoi' tweet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

AFTER kicking up a storm with her "Mr Gogoi" jibe, Trinamool Congress MP Mahua Moitra on Friday clarified that she had alluded to Rajya Sabha member Ranjan Gogoi.

"Just for those sanghis twisting tweet to say I targeted all Gogois let me spell it out: Mister Ranjan Gogoi. Honourable MP, Rajya Sabha," she tweeted.

Ranjan Gogoi, a former

Yatra brought to halt by rain; BJP now plans 'double engine' campaign

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

HEAVY rainfall in Gujarat has forced the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) to put the brakes on its 'Vande Gujarat Vikas Yatra'. The campaign, which started on July 5, was earlier scheduled to be held until July 19 to disseminate information regarding the development works done in Gujarat under the BJP rule in the last two decades.

However, videos of roads being blocked due to rains, and the BJP's 'chariots' getting stuck at some places have gone viral. The party is now planning a change in its plans, and is gearing up to launch a 'double engine' campaign in the run-up to the Assembly elections.

The videos of BJP's trucks passing through pothole-riddled roads were posted by Aam Aadmi Party as well as Congress leader Jignesh Mevani. The vehicles had to be covered with plastic sheets at the collectorate, and parked at covered places.

A government official associated with the yatra said on condition of anonymity that the campaign may be rescheduled if the rains stop shortly.

Meanwhile, the BJP government is planning to start a

Information about the ongoing schemes and projects in the state as well as data about expenditure and grants has been sought, which will be used along with statistics from the Central government schemes, to launch the new campaign from a virtual platform.

Rain takes 11 lives in 24 hrs, 54 deaths reported so far

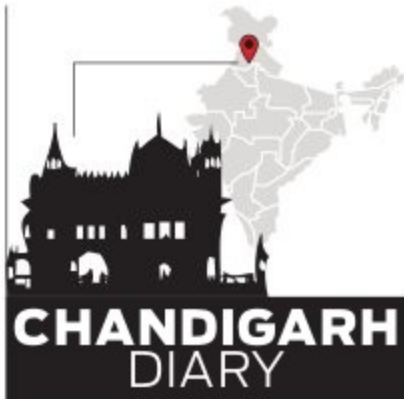

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Ahmedabad

HEAVY rains continued to lash parts of south Gujarat and the Saurashtra region on Friday, with six talukas receiving over 200 mm rainfall in 24 hours.

There appears to be no immediate respite in sight as the India Meteorological Department has predicted "heavy to very heavy rainfall" at some places on Saturday. "A total of 54 deaths have been reported in the state so far; 11 people have died in the last 24 hours. Three of them fell off a bridge and died," Disaster Management Minister Rajendra Trivedi said.

The water levels in Purna and Ambika rivers in Navsari have decreased, and as the has situation improved, only two districts — including Valsad and Dang — are on red alert, Trivedi added.

"Over 800 people have been rescued in 24 hours. This is the first incident of such a large-scale rescue in a single day. Disaster response teams have done commendable work. As many as 1,254 people have been rescued since July 7. Nine people have been airlifted by the Air Force in Navsari," said Trivedi.

Stiff oppn against Chadha's appointment

The state's decision to appoint Aam Aadmi Party leader Raghav Chadha, who, at the age of 33, became the youngest Rajya Sabha MP from Punjab, as chairman of the state's interim 'Advisory Committee' is tantamount to creating a parallel power centre. As for Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann, he was hailed as the man who not only won Punjab but the one who also gave the AAP a foothold outside Delhi — to move towards its avowed dream to expand across the country. But is Mann the real boss? Whether it is a political hara-kiri or not, the decision doesn't seem to sit well with the Opposition. Also, the appointment has come under judicial scanner with a Public Interest Litigation filed against it.

BJP's Sampla-Grewal rapport still intact

Senior Bharatiya Janata Party leader and former Union minister Vijay Sampla, who is the chairperson of the National Commission for Scheduled Castes, and senior party leader Harjeet Grewal were referred to as Ram and Lakhan, a pair of bullocks, during the former's recent visit to Chandigarh where his colleague was also present. In a lighter vein, he told to a select gathering of media persons present at the venue that both of them are 'inseparable' and that their friendship dates back to the last many decades as they both used to go together to Delhi and meet senior party leaders. They were also referred to by their seniors as a jodi (pair) of Ram and Lakhan or pair of bullocks and now their friendship is as strong as it was then.

Fratricide: 2 Army men killed, 2 hurt

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

TWO Army men were killed and two others injured in a fratricide incident in an Army camp at Surankote in the border district of Poonch in Jammu and Kashmir on Friday.

An army official said an altercation took place between some soldiers stationed at 156 Territorial Army camp around 5.30 am, and in a fit of anger, one of the soldiers fired on three of his colleagues. The soldier later shot himself dead using his own service rifle.

The injured Army men were referred to the military hospital, where one of the critically injured soldier succumbed to injuries. The other two injured soldiers are undergoing treatment.

The deceased soldiers were identified as Naik Imtiyaz Ahmed and sepoy Abrar Ahmed, while those injured were Naik Khalil Ahmed and Naik Khalil Ahmed.

Immediately after the incident, top Army and police officials rushed to the spot to take stock of the situation.

Defence sources said Naik Imtiyaz fired on the jawans and then shot himself to death.

The Army has ordered a probe into the incident to ascertain the facts and the reason behind the jawan's action.

Earlier, in January this year, two soldiers died in a suspected fratricide incident near the Line of Control in the border district of Rajouri.

There have been several fratricide incidents in the militancy-hit Jammu and Kashmir in the last two decades during which many security personnel have lost their lives.

Experts blame stressful work, poor service conditions, inadequacy of leave, and communication gap between jawans and senior officers for these incidents, and security forces have taken many measures to prevent them from taking place.

Didn't compare: SSP on RSS row

PATNA: Stressing that he never "compared one organisation with another," Patna Senior Superintendent of Police Manavjeet Singh Dhillon on Friday said the controversy over his remarks erupted due to "selective interpretation".

Dhillon was targeted by BJP after, at a press conference held on Thursday about the busting of an alleged terror module, he said the physical training provided to PFI cadres is "like that imparted at the RSS shakhas."

However, he said on Friday, "I was asked by journalists about the modus operandi of PFI. In reply, I shared what the arrested persons said during interrogation and also what their propaganda material had to say. There is an elaborate reference to this." ENS

Bihar: Admin of WhatsApp group linked to Pakistan, Bangladesh held

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

EVEN as evidences continue to emerge over the suspected terror module busted in Patna's Phulwarisharif area, the Bihar Police on Friday arrested an alleged administrator of a WhatsApp group called 'Ghazba-e-Hind', created by a Pakistani national, Faizan.

Patna SSP Manavjeet Singh Dhillon said they arrested the administrator, Ilyas Tahir, who was circulating objectionable material among members.

"Tahir wanted to launch a jihad in the country next year as he was successful in linking 181 people to the group so far," Dhillon said, adding that Tahir and his associates had chalked out their plan by chatting on a 'Direct Jihad' group. People from Pakistan, Bangladesh and Yemen were linked to the 'Ghazba-e-Hind' group. Besides these, one more WhatsApp group was created recently, with 10 members from Pakistan and Bangladesh so far.

"Both the WhatsApp groups were being used for propagating fanatic ideology and carrying out anti-India activities," Dhillon said.

Dhillon clarified that Tahir's arrest was not linked to the module busted on July 11.

Convicted RJD MLA Anant Singh loses Assembly membership

Patna: Giving a jolt to the Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD), the Bihar Assembly on Friday revoked the membership of party MLA Anant Singh after he was sentenced to 10 years of rigorous imprisonment in a case related to the recovery of an AK-47 rifle, cartridges, hand grenades and other weapons from his house in his ancestral village of Ladma in Patna district. RJD may now field Anant's wife Neelam Devi in the bypolls to the seat. The Assembly had earlier terminated the membership of RJD's Raj Ballabh Prasad Yadav after he was convicted in a rape case.

RANIL SWORN IN AS ACTING PREZ

Parliament to elect a president after 1978

For the first time since 1978, Sri Lanka will elect a president through a secret vote by the lawmakers and not through a popular mandate, following the resignation of Gotabaya Rajapaksa who was ousted by a popular uprising against him. The 225-member Parliament will elect the new president by a secret vote on July 20, Speaker Mahinda Yapa Abeywardena said on Friday. Never in the history of the presidency since 1978 that Parliament had voted to elect a president. Presidential elections in 1982, 1988, 1994, 1999, 2005, 2010, 2015 and 2019 had elected them by popular vote

SC bars Mahinda, Basil from leaving country

Sri Lanka's Supreme Court on Friday barred former prime minister Mahinda Rajapaksa and former finance minister Basil Rajapaksa from leaving the country till July 28. The order was passed by the apex court during the hearing of a petition filed by global civil society organisation Transparency International on the economic crisis in Sri Lanka. The petitioner had claimed that these persons were directly responsible for the unsustainability of Sri Lanka's foreign debt, its debt default and the current economic crisis.

Lankan Parliament to meet today, new prez to be elected on Jul 20

SRI Lankan Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe was appointed acting president on Friday, a day after Gotabaya Rajapaksa resigned as the country's eighth executive president.

Speaker Mahinda Yapa Abeywardena announced President Rajapaksa's vacation of post at a special media briefing. He said measures were being taken to address the political crisis within seven days.

Abeywardena told media that he will follow all constitutionally laid out procedures to ensure a transparent and expeditious election of the next president through a parliamentary vote, ending the country's political impasse.

He appealed to the public to act with restraint and requested their support to create conditions for parliamentarians to attend the next parliamentary session to freely exercise their legislative duty to select an interim president.

Accordingly, Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe was sworn in before Chief Justice Jayantha Jayasuriya as acting president. The parliament is expected to elect a new president to lead an all-party interim government on July 20. The House will meet on Saturday to call for nominations for the task of president. The last date for nominations is July 19.

The election will be held on July 20.

In a special statement, acting president Wickremesinghe said that he will not permit any action that violates the Constitution and requested all parties to work together to end the political crisis.

Meanwhile, the Sri Lanka Peoples' Party (SLPP), the political outfit registered by the Rajapaksas when breaking away from the original party, Sri Lanka Freedom Party (SLFP) and commands the majority in the House, has decided to back the candidature of Wickremesinghe during the parliamentary vote to choose the next president, SLPP Secretary Sagara Kariyawasam said. As Sri Lanka reels under its worst financial crisis since Independence, resulting in spiraling cost of living and lack of essentials for the 22 million people, protests began demanding the resignation of president Rajapaksa together with his clan.

Protesters stormed Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa's official residence on May 9, forcing him to relinquish office. A month later, finance minister Basil Rajapaksa also resigned from his post. Gotabaya carried on as president and had to flee his residence on July 9, hours before it was stormed by protesters.

inghe was the main sponsor of the 19th Amendment in 2015. However, the 19A was scrapped after Gotabaya Rajapaksa won the November 2019 presidential election. Wickremesinghe said the true protesters would not resort to violence.

Biden visit: Saudi lifts ban on use of airspace

JEDDAH

SAUDI Arabia announced on Friday it was lifting restrictions on "all carriers" using its airspace, an apparent gesture of openness towards Israel hours before US President Joe Biden's arrival.

The US leader welcomed the "historic" decision, the latest conciliatory move by Riyadh concerning the Jewish state, which it has refused to recognise despite intensive efforts by the Israelis to establish ties with Arab countries.

Biden landed in Saudi Arabia and met Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman on Friday evening.

space for all air carriers that meet the requirements of the authority for overflying", it said.

The decision was made "to complement the Kingdom's efforts aimed at consolidating the Kingdom's position as a global hub connecting three continents".

US House votes for sanctions waiver to India over Russia deal

WASHINGTON

THE US House of Representatives has passed by voice vote a legislative amendment that approves waiver to India against the punitive CAATSA sanctions for its purchase of the S-400 missile defence system from Russia to help deter aggressors like China.

The legislative amendment was passed on Thursday as part of an en bloc amendment during floor consideration of the National Defence Authorisation Act (NDAA).

"The United States must stand with India in the face of escalating aggression from China. As Vice Chair of the India Caucus, I have been working to strengthen the partnership between our countries and ensure that India can defend itself along the Indian Chinese border," said Ro Khanna, the US representative from Califor-

What is CAATSA

CAATSA is a tough US law that authorises the US administration to impose sanctions on nations that purchase defence hardware from Russia in response to Russia's annexation of Crimea in 2014 and its alleged meddling in the 2016 presidential elections, which Donald Trump won nia's 17th congressional district. "This amendment is of the utmost importance, and I am proud to see it pass the House on a bipartisan basis," Khanna said.

The law was brought in 2017 and provides for punitive actions by the United States government against any country engaged in transactions with the Russian defence and intelligence sectors.

In October 2018, India signed a $5 billion deal with Russia to buy five units of the S-400 air defence missile systems, despite a warning from the then-Trump administration that going ahead with the contract may invite US sanctions.

The S-400 is known as Russia's most advanced long-range surface-to-air missile defence system.

The US has already imposed sanctions on Turkey under the CAATSA for the purchase of a batch of S-400 missile defence systems from Russia.

Following the US sanctions on Turkey over the procurement of S-400 missile systems, there were apprehensions that Washington may impose similar punitive measures on India.

The US has not yet made any decision on potential waivers to India under CATSAA law for its purchase of the S-400 missile defence system from Russia, Secretary of State Antony Blinken said in April. PTI

RANIL VOWS TO MAINTAIN LAW AND ORDER, EMPOWER PARL

COLOMBO

RANIL Wickremesinghe on Friday pledged to maintain law and order and revive the 19th Amendment to the Constitution aimed at empowering Parliament over the executive president as he was sworn in as Lanka's interim president until the House elects a successor to Gotabaya Rajapaksa. Addressing Parliament after he was sworn in on Friday, Wickremesinghe, said as acting President his first task would be to revive the 19th amendment to the Constitution. A draft would soon be prepared for its restoration. The 19A adopted in 2015 pruned presidential powers by empowering Parliament above the executive president. Wickremes-

Boris told allies to back anyone, but Rishi: Report

LONDON

AS the race to become Britain's next prime minister gained pace, caretaker premier Boris Johnson has reportedly told his allies to back "anyone but Rishi Sunak", according to a media report on Friday.

Johnson, who resigned as the leader of the ruling Conservative Party on July 7, has been urging defeated Tory leadership candidates not to back former chancellor Sunak, who is widely blamed for Johnson's loss of support among his own party members, UK's The Times reported.

"The whole No 10 [Downing Street] team hates Rishi. They think he was planning this for months," the newspaper quoted a source as saying. Johnson, who has said he will not endorse any leadership candidates or publicly intervene in the contest, is believed to have held conversations with failed contenders to succeed him and urged that Sunak should not become the prime minister. A source close to one of the conversations said the current prime minister appeared most keen on Liz Truss, the foreign secretary, endorsed by his fiercest cabinet allies, Jacob Rees-Mogg and Nadine Dorries.

Johnson is also reportedly open to Penny Mordaunt succeeding him instead of Sunak.

According to the report, caretaker Prime Minister Johnson and his camp are running an "anyone but Rishi" hidden campaign after feeling betrayed over the former Chancellor's resignation which precipi-

Imported coal 10x costlier for gencos

Govt had directed power generators to import 10% of their coal requirement for blending

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

STATE and independent power producers will have to cough up ten times the price of domestic coal to procure imported coal for 10% blending as mandated by the Centre.

Government officials told TNIE that the domestic coal costs nearly ₹1,700 to ₹2,000 per tonne to the power gencos but the imported produce would cost nearly ₹17,000 to ₹20,000 a tonne (after including landing costs).

"The power gencos will have to shell out at least seven to ten times more than the usual costs. Perhaps, this is the reason many states such as Telangana, Tamil Nadu, West Bengal, Chhattisgarh and Jharkhand are reluctant to import. Initially, Uttar Pradesh was also reluctant but it is ready to import now," said a coal ministry official.

Adani Group, which has emerged as a winner for 2.416 million tonne imported coal, has quoted a price of ₹16,700 a tonne. After adding landing cost to this, power generators would be paying nearly ₹20,000 a tonne. With the country facing a power crisis due to coal shortage, the power ministry directed all states and domestic coal-based power generators to import at least 10% of their requirement of coal for blending. In case they failed to comply with the blending rule, their quota (imported coal quota) would be enhanced by 15% for the remaining period.

Also, to stock up coal and meet the growing coal demand, the government decided to import coal from abroad. The coal ministry assigned Coal India Limited (CIL) to import coal on behalf of state's gencos. On June 9, CIL floated its maiden tender to import 2.416 million tonnes of coal and on June 10 it floated two medium-term bids for sourcing 6 million tonnes (MT) of coal from overseas.

"Adani Enterprises Ltd emerged the winner of the 2.416 coal tender while the medium-term tenders was given to Indonesia-based PT Bara Daya Energy consortium to import 7.91 lakh tonnes for supplying to gencos during August and September," said sources.

Adani has quoted ₹4,033 crore for the supply of 2.416 million tonnes of coal on a freight-on-road (FOR) basis, while Bara Daya Energi has quoted ₹4,331 crore for the eastern coast tender and ₹4,497 crore for the west coast for 3 million tonne each. For coal to be imported from Adani Group, CIL had already got orders from 7 state gencos and 19 independent power producers. Recently, Uttar Pradesh approved import of 5.46 lakh tonnes for the months of August and September through CIL, and it will cost the state additional ₹895 crore.

Xiaomi India appoints Muralikrishnan as president

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

XIAOMI INDIA has elevated Muralikrishnan B as president of the company, with Raghu Reddy given additional charge as the sales head, effective August 1, in other top level rejigs.

The organisational changes at Xiaomi India, country's top smartphone seller, come amid intense scrutiny on Chinese companies, especially on smartphone and technology companies, by the government of India. Xiaomi India is also under investigation by the enforcement directorate (ED) for alleged violation of the Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA) and illegal foreign remittances under the guise of royalties. Xiaomi has denied any wrongdoing.

After serving as chief operating officer since 2018, in his new role as President of Xiaomi India, Muralikrishnan B will be responsible for day-to-day operations, services, public affairs and strategic projects.

Xiaomi India had last month announced the appointment of Alvin Tse, a founding member of Xiaomi, as the general manager of Xiaomi India. The company also announced bringing Anuj Sharma back as its chief marketing officer. He was handling sub-brand Poco till now. In May, ED seized Xiaomi India's assets of over ₹5,500 crore. Manu Jain, who led Xiaomi India for seven years, was summoned by ED in the FEMA case. Jain has now moved to a global role as group vice president of the company.

Adani-led consortium wins bid to buy Israel's Haifa port for $1.18 bn

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

A consortium of Adani Ports and Special Economic Zone Ltd (APSEZ) and Israel's Gadot Group has bagged the tender to privatise Haifa port, the second-largest port in Israel, for $1.18 billion.

Through the winning bid, the consortium has secured the rights to buy 100% shares of Haifa Port Company. The concession period of the port remains up to 2054. "This is one of the many steps we are taking to transform APSEZ into a global transport utility that will include logistics and warehousing," said Karan Adani, wholetime Director & CEO at APSEZ.

"In the short term, we look forward to developing strategic trade lanes between our ports in India and Haifa and help facilitate trade between the two countries, diversifying the port cargo as well as leveraging our expertise to increase the operational efficiencies..." "In the long run, this is a tremendous port as we anticipate Israel becoming a connection both for Europe and the Middle East, and, therefore, we stand to benefit from the new possible trade lanes that will get created," he added.

Karan further said Adani's portion of the investment is being funded via internal accruals. The consortium of APSEZ and Gadot will hold 70% and 30% shares, respectively. With the acquisition of Haifa, APSEZ will expand its footprint into the European port sector, which includes the lucrative Mediterranean region, the company said. APSEZ is the largest port developer and operator in India, with 12 strategically located ports and terminals, representing 24% of the country's port capacity. Last year, APSEZ set up a holding company in Singapore to pursue potential port opportunities globally to achieve its 2030 vision.

MSMEs not to be affected by recession: Govt

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE government seems to be optimistic about the future of micro, small and medium-sized enterprises (MSME) amid inflationary pressure and recession fears in Europe and the US.

According to a government official, most of the countries import Indian petroleum products, chemicals & drug and pharma items, for which demand will never fade, hence there is no need to worry for at least two to three years. Within the country too, with the economy picking up, there is a pent-up demand so the market sentiments are positive.

"We majorly export products which have inelastic demand like petroleum products, chemicals and pharma items. So even inflation or other disturbances like recession etc won't impact the exports by MSME sector,"

Indian exports unlikely to get impacted

A govt official says most countries import Indian petroleum products, chemicals & drug and pharma items, for which demand will never fade, hence there is no need to worry for at least 2 to 3 yrs

the official said.

"While China is still reeling under the burden of Covid effects, India's MSME sector has come back to normalcy despite high commodity prices and disruptions in the supply chain," he further added. Domestically, there is a good demand for MSME goods, he said.

When asked about the vulnerability of MSME sector as recession is looming over powerful economies like the US, Europe and China, the official stated, it may affect the country in the long haul. But for the next two to three years from now, there is no need to worry, he said.

MSME sector contributes nearly 30% to GDP of the country and it deals in nearly 7,000 products. In global trade, it contributes about 48% to the exports of the country. The US, Europe, China are among the top destinations where Indian goods and services are supplied. "After second wave of Covid pandemic, the MSME sector was limping back to normalcy when they were again hit by

Biscuit major Parle sees double-digit growth in second half of FY23

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

BISCUITS major Parle is anticipating at least double-digit growth in the second half of this year on restriction-free festive season, according to Mayank Shah, Senior Category Head Parle Products.

The reason for this, Shah says in an interaction with TNIE, is that this will be the first time people will be freely moving out and you know probably celebrating festivals. "So we are anticipating a very good year with a very good festive season."

Biscuits category business grew 11-12% in terms of value in FY22 and about 4-5% in terms of volume growth, Shah informs.

The company, according to Shah, has started seeing revival in growth since the first quarter of the year owing to good monsoon and is betting big on the two newly launched categories of packaged aata (flour) and cereals.

On new launches in the pipeline, he says, "Ideally we'd like to currently consolidate and focus on this category and have some critical volumes before we look at moving through introducing some other categories or brands."

On the consumption behaviour, Shah says last year smaller packs were really doing very well, but with demand getting revived, there's increased traction towards big packs of premium products. "Our first quarter onwards, we have started seeing consumers gravitating towards the bigger packs of premium products so bigger packs are doing really well."

However, amidst the optimism, there's a big challenge of dealing with volatility for the company. "You cannot decide how you price your product. In case if you price it at a higher rate, and then you know, those rates go down, then you are rendered uncompetitive and if you assume that lower rates will prevail, and you price it at a lower MRP and if the rates go high, then you're making losses. So, it's very, very challenging."

IndiGo flight diverted due to engine vibration

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AMID a significant number of technicians taking mass sick leaves to protest against low pay, an IndiGo flight from Delhi to Vadodra was diverted to Jaipur on Thursday night as a precautionary measure following vibrations in engine for a fraction of a second.

An alternate aircraft was arranged for the passengers. Civil aviation regulator DGCA said that they have ordered a probe into the matter. "An IndiGo flight 6E-859, operating between Delhi and Vadodra was diverted to Jaipur on 14 July 2022," said an IndiGo spokesperson. The spokesperson added, "There was a caution message indicated to the pilot en route. As a precaution, the pilot diverted the aircraft to Jaipur for further checks. The passengers were accommodated on an alternate aircraft for their onward journey." In the last one week, a significant number of the airline's aircraft maintenance technicians (AMT) have taken sick leaves.

IT spends to grow 7.7% in 2022

Bengaluru: Global economic uncertainty continues to be an area of concern for Indian enterprises, as IT spending in India is projected to grow 7.7% to reach $114.9 billion compared to the previous year growth rate of 21.2%, according to Gartner. The global IT spending is expected to increase 3% to reach $4.5 trillion in 2022. "Ongoing investment on hyperscale data centres coupled with average selling price (ASP) increase is forecast to drive 13.6% revenue growth for data centres in 2022. Digitisation and application modernisation will trigger software refresh including ongoing SaaS adoption," said Naveen Mishra, senior director analyst at Gartner. In India, cloud services is the underpinning driver for 10.3% IT services growth in 2022. Software is forecast to grow 16.1% in 2022, compared to 19.9% in the previous year. ENS

Awarding direct 5G spectrum to private players doesn't offer backdoor entry: BIF

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

REFUTING the claims of telecom operators, Broadband India Forum (BIF), a group which has TCS, Cisco, Google and Amazon as members, on Friday said the allocation of direct spectrum to private enterprises does not offer a backdoor entry for them to get 5G spectrum.

The forum said the suggestion that captive private networks should bid for spectrum in auctions is irrational, given their objective is to enhance efficiencies and not use the spectrum to provide commercial public services. "It is apparent that certain quarters and incumbents with vested interests are attempting to derail this development through irrational, misleading and misinformed claims for a level playing field between the vastly different service domains of public networks and captive non-public networks," said the forum in a statement. This comes days after Adani Data Networks, subsidiary of Adani Group, applied for the 5G auction. The Department of Telecommunication (DoT), in its 5G modali-

Q1 EARNINGS

Federal Bank Q1 net profit up 64% on lower provision for bad loans

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Federal Bank on Friday reported a 63.5% rise in net profit at ₹601 crore in the June quarter on a steep fall in provision for bad loans.

The Kerala-based lender had reported a net profit of ₹367 crore in the same quarter a year ago.

Its core net interest income grew 13.1% to ₹1,605 crore during the reporting quarter on a 16% advances growth and a 0.07% expansion in the net interest margin to 3.22%.

However, the bank's other incomes fell 30.2% to ₹453 crore, while the operating profit was also down by 14.1% to ₹973 crore. Shyam Srinivasan, managing director and chief executive officer, attributed the same to reverses on the treasury operations side as the yields are going up.

The profit on sale of securities came at ₹12 crore in the June quarter as against ₹394

Allow India to export grains to needy nations: FM to WTO

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

AMID Russia-Ukraine crisis when many countries are facing food shortage, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman urged the World Trade Organisation (WTO) to allow India to export food grains from its public stockholding. According to the WTO norms, export from the public stockholding is not allowed as these are procured at subsidised rates.

"There is a hesitation in WTO that the grain so procured can't be brought to the market to export. If this is allowed, then the problem of hunger can be addressed in other countries," Sitharaman said at a seminar on 'strengthening global collaboration for tackling food insecurity' in Bali, Indonesia.

"Through the world food programme we are able to give the amount which they may want but that is not the end of the story. Besides this, there are other countries also which need to sell food grain to others which are in dire need," she added.

The world programme should not just focus on wheat, rice or few pulses; it should look at coarse grain too, said Sitharaman. Focusing on finer grains is giving lifestyle diseases because of excess gluten, she added. 2023 will be celebrated as the International Year of Millets and India is a major millet-producing country in the world.

Interest income

Core net interest income grew 13.1% to ₹1,605 crore during the reporting quarter on a 16% advances growth and a 0.07% expansion in the net interest margin to 3.22%

NPAs, and the bank is not concerned about it as it expected a fifth of such advances to slip. He said slippages from the retail and agriculture, which didn't have any regulatory forbearance in the past, will be higher going forward.

Rupee bounces back to close at 79.82 Vs dollar

Mumbai: The rupee on Friday rebounded from the near-80 levels to close higher by 17 paise at 79.82 against the US currency following a recovery in the domestic stocks and weakness in the greenback in overseas markets. The US dollar retreated from the two-decade high levels against a basket of six currencies which supported the rupee sentiment. At the interbank foreign exchange market, the local currency opened at 79.95 and witnessed an intra-day high of 79.82 and a low of 79.96 against the US dollar in the day trade. The local unit finally settled at 79.82 a dollar, up 17 paise over its previous close. PTI

Pakistan captain Babar Azam has backed Virat Kohli to come out of his prolonged lean patch. "I just feel that in the present situation Kohli needs support and to be backed. I tweeted wishing him best because I know how a player feels when he is going through this period and he needs the support of everyone," Babar said ahead of Pakistan's first Test against Sri Lanka in Galle.

DEJA VU FOR INDIA

Top-order collapses followed by the tail surrendering meekly, like the one at Lord's, are a recurring theme that the team needs to arrest before the World Cup

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

WHEN India return to Old Trafford for the series decider on Sunday, they will be reminded of one of their worst white-ball defeats in recent times. The last time they played a match there, New Zealand beat them in the World Cup semifinal in 2019. Chasing 240, India, 4/24 after the first 10 overs, lost it in this phase. It's been a bit of a recurring theme for them, really. In some of their most significant white-ball games beginning with the Champions Trophy final against Pakistan in 2017, their batters have tended to lose the contest early doors.

London in 2017 (3/47 after 10 overs chasing 339), the decider against Australia in New Delhi in March 2019 (6/138 chasing 273) and the above-mentioned World Cup semifinal all saw top-order batters dismissed cheaply. While it's perhaps not right to compare, there were similar blow-outs in the T20 World Cup last year. Batting first against Pakistan, they were reduced to 3/31. Against New Zealand, it was even worse: 4/48.

In the five white-ball matches in the ongoing tour, India have found themselves in similar positions twice. No surprise that they have lost both matches. In the last T20I, chasing 216, they were 3/31. In the second ODI on Wednesday, a chase of 247 was considered academic. Yet, the visitors lost their way 4/31 and out of the conwtest. Skipper Rohit Sharma, who has incidentally taken part in all of the examples cited above, is mindful.

"It has happened to us on a few occasions," he said during the post-match press conference. "It is something we want to keep in mind moving forward. We have spoken about it (...) where we were put under pressure and we lost wickets

AVG & SR (NOS 8-11 FROM JAN 1, 2017)

Country	Avg	S/R
Pakistan	18.91	94.86
England	21.08	94.70
NZ	18.25	91.30
India	15.73	80.05
Australia	12.72	85.42
SA	15.72	85.43

and we were 20/3 or 40/4, that is where I want the guys to change their mindset. Is there something different that you can do as a batting unit?"

Sharma hinted that one way to address this would be to empower the batters to play freely rather than think about the scoreboard. "(...) try and see if they can be a bit positive and try and take the game on. (...) that is where I think the role of the management comes into play and ask them to play freely and show them what they are trying to do in the middle is absolutely right."

In the four ODIs mentioned above, there is another strand that connects the top-order blowouts. A lower-order rescue act before losing wickets in a heap. In 2017, they went from 6/72 to 152 before losing their last four wickets for six. Against Australia in 2019, 6/132 progressed to 223 before losing their last four for 14. At the World Cup, they lost their last four for 13 after being 6/92 before a 116-run stand. Likewise, at Lord's on Thursday, they lost their last four wickets for six runs after a 39-run stand for the seventh. Since the beginning of 2017, India's tail (Nos 8, 9, 10 and 11) averages 15.73. That's comfortably below England (21.08), Pakistan (18.91), New Zealand (18.25) and in the same ballpark as South Africa (15.72). What, though, hurts them is the Indian tail takes a longer time to score their runs than five nations that play ODIs at the elite level.

On comeback, Karthik relishing the role clarity

GOMESH S @Chennai

AS the England and Wales Cricket Board launched the inaugural edition of The Hundred in 2021, Dinesh Karthik was a commentator with Sky Sports alongside former England captains Nasser Hussain and Michael Atherton. During his stints, the channel displayed 'India 2004-2019' even though he hadn't officially retired. As the Indian men's team toured England for five Tests, Karthik continued as an expert for them, interviewing Virat Kohli, Rohit Sharma and Jasprit Bumrah.

Dinesh Karthik

While current players getting involved in broadcasting gigs is often the norm in England, New Zealand and Australia, in India, when a player goes into commentary, it's often seen as a post-career profession. Karthik, however, seems to be breaking it as he made a full U-turn of sorts since the last English summer, making a comeback into the Indian T20I side.

Twelve months after his Sky Sports debut, Karthik was on the other side of the microphone, answering questions to Nasser and Atherton last week during the T20I series against England that India won 2-1. And this time, the broadcasters had named him "India wicket-keeper" and rightly so. For Karthik, all this has been "surreal". "(It's been) enjoyable as well. The players and team management made me feel at home from the word go. It has been exciting no doubt," said the 37-year-old at an event facilitated by 'Evocus' black alkaline water in Chennai on Friday. While he has been vocal on the mic in the second half of 2021, Karthik quietly put in the yards off-the-field in the lead up to the IPL. The end result: 330 runs as a finisher at 183.33 strike rate for Royal Challengers Bangalore. He was the only Indian to score over 250 runs at a SR higher than 165. Eventually, he returned to the Indian team and smashed a fifty in the fourth T20I against South Africa.

Sindhu enters semis, Saina faces heartbreak

AGENCIES @Singapore

DOUBLE Olympic medallist shuttler PV Sindhu pulled off a thriller to advance into the semifinal, but her teammates Saina Nehwal and HS Prannoy suffered heartbreaking defeats in their respective events in the Singapore Open Super 500 Tournament here on Friday.

Third seed Sindhu overcame a strong challenge from Han Yue before getting the better of her Chinese rival 17-21, 21-11, 21-19 in a battle lasting more than an hour to book her first semifinal berth since the Thailand Open in May. Sindhu will next face unseeded Saena Kawakami, the Japanese world No. 38, who caused an upset by eliminating sixth seeded Pornpawee Chochuwong of Thailand 21-17, 21-19.

London Olympics bronze medalist Saina Nehwal, who showed signs of her silken touch in a superb win over Chinese world No. 9 He Bing Jiao in the quarters, squandered a game lead to go down 13-21, 21-15, 20-21 against left-handed Japanese Aya Ohori. The 32-year-old veteran Indian failed to convert her match points twice to hand over the tie to her Japanese opponent.

T20 WC: Zimbabwe, Netherlands qualify

AGENCIES @Dubai

NETHERLANDS and Zimbabwe booked their places in the ICC T20 World Cup after seeing off USA and Papua New Guinea respectively in semifinals of the ICC Men's T20 World Cup Qualifier B. Netherlands saw off a spirited USA side to seal a seven-wicket victory in their semifinal after restricting USA to 138 in 19.4 overs even as Zimbabwe held off a valiant PNG by 27 runs. The duo of Regis Chakabva and Craig Ervine provided a good start for hosts, with the former taking an aggressive approach.

United signs Eriksen for next three years

AFP @ Manchester

CHRISTIAN Eriksen said he chose to join Manchester United on a free transfer because the Old Trafford club is "special". Eriksen agreed a three-year contract with United after an impressive loan spell with Brentford in the second half of last season. The 30-year-old's switch to United completes an incredible return after his brush with death last year. He suffered a cardiac arrest on the pitch while playing for Denmark at the European Championship and was forced to leave Inter Milan.

Saini to play eight games for Kent

KENT: India fast bowler Navdeep Saini will be playing eight games for leading English County side Kent during the ongoing season.

The pacer will follow in the footsteps of Rahul Dravid to become the second Indian Test cricketer to play for the county. Saini was a net bowler for the Indian team ahead of its rescheduled fifth Test.

Aditi-Pajaree duo lies T-22nd at Great Lakes Bay

MIDLAND (US): Aditi Ashok, playing with Thai Pajaree Anannurakarn, moved to tied-22nd after the second round of the Dow Great Lakes Bay Invitational tournament. Aditi and Pajaree put up a vastly improved performance in the second round as they tallied eight-under in better-ball after a two-over showing in alternate-shot play on the first day.

Aishwary stars for India in the Shooting WC

NEW DELHI: Aishwary Pratap Singh Tomar topped the men's 50m Rifle 3 Positions (3P) qualifiers as Indian shooters continued their impressive performance at the ISSF World Cup Rifle/Pistol/Shotgun stage in Changwon. Two Indians reached the ranking round while at least one other looked poised to qualify with two finals on Saturday.

DAY'S DIARY

Nuclear explosion

The world's first nuclear explosion occurred on this day in 1945, when US tested the atomic bomb near Alamogordo in New Mexico

THE 'TRINITY' TEST

Inspired by the poetry of John Donne, J. Robert Oppenheimer code-named the test 'Trinity'. The success meant that an atomic bomb using plutonium could be used by the military

DISPLAYING STRENGTH

Nicknamed the 'Gadget', the plutonium-based implosion-type device yielded 19 kilotons, creating a crater over 300 metres wide

EFFICIENT EXPLOSIVE

Plutonium implosion devices are more efficient and powerful than gun-type uranium bombs like the Little Boy bomb detonated over Hiroshima

'MY DAD WANTED ME TO SETTLE DOWN IN B'LURU'

But life had other plans for Bollywood's 'Dream Girl' Hema Malini, who chats with CE on her dance performance in the city

ISHRATH MUBEEN

DREAM Girl' Hema Malini has mesmerised audiences for decades with her charming dance moves, and incomparable acting skills. From playing significant roles in films like Dream Girl and Sholay, to energetic dance performances, she has won millions of hearts. On Friday, she was in the city to perform a classical dance drama, 'Radha Raasbihari'.

The ballet required Hema Malini to employ her legendary skills as an artiste and performer to portray 'Radha' with an intensity that surpasses all her previous efforts in choreography. Of all her performances, 'Durga' and 'Radha' have been the most sought-after roles. "Radha Raasbihari incorporates all forms of classical dance. Based on the Indian epic of 'Radha and Krishna', it majorly comprises Kathak. I have been performing this ballet around the globe for the last 10 years. Despite back-to-back shows, we rehearse three days prior to the day of the performance to perfect the coordination. Every show is a new show," Hema Malini says.

The two-hour-long ballet was a spectacular visual which included the transcendental maharajas, choodi wali, and gondhne wali guise, in which Krishna entices Radha, the joyous Holi scene of Barsana, the poignant Bidai scene when Krishna departs for Mathura and decimates Kamsa.

Hema Malini's husband Dharamendra's 'unconditional support' and her grandchildren's presence during rehearsals is a driving force for the actor. However, even after innumerable shows, films and performances, Hema Malini experiences the same level of nervousness as she did when she performed for the first time at the age of six. "Any dance takes a lot of effort and practice. Although I'm nervous, the best part is that the excitement and preparation keep me going. It hasn't deteriorated one bit. As an artiste and a dancer, I have been continuously connected to art. So does Esha [daughter, Esha Deol], who loves to perform ballet on Ramayan," says the 'Dream Girl'.

With a two-year delay in the performance in Bengaluru due to the pandemic, Hema Malini says she has very pleasant memories of the city. "We have shot in and around the city for films like Sholay, Mehbooba and Maa." The iconic Bollywood movie Sholay, was shot in Ramanagara, a hilltop located 50 km from the city. Her character 'Basanti' has remained a symbol of women's empowerment, as she was the first woman character in a Bollywood film to command a horse-drawn carriage. "Every time I was here, I would go shopping and also travel to Mudumalai Forest, Mysuru, and Ooty. We had a wonderful experience. There was a time my father was very keen that I settle down here but life had a different plan for me," she says.

Avin Thaliath (@chef_avin), pastry chef and the director of Lavonne Academy of Baking Science And Pastry Arts, dishes out a food-related quiz in this weekly series. Be a real 'whisk' taker and let us know if you have what it takes. Who knows, your dreams may crumb true.

Bangalore School of Music's Chamber Orchestra is all set for its first significant performance since the onset of the pandemic

FIA MAJUMDAR

BENGALURU is finally getting its groove back after two years of lockdowns and curfews. But we all know that life in Bengaluru isn't complete without some music and culture. So if that's something you feel like you've been lacking lately, then this event couldn't have come at a better time.

The Chamber Orchestra, the principal bowed-string ensemble from the Bangalore School of Music (BSM), is gearing up to present its first major offline performance since the pandemic hit, at the Alliance Francaise Auditorium, on Saturday, July 16 at 7 pm. Composed almost entirely of non-career musicians from all walks of life, the BSM Chamber Orchestra was empanelled by the ICCR in 2012.

V Narayanaswamy, who has been the conductor of the orchestra for 28 years and is also faculty at Christ (deemed to be) University, says, "The programme for the evening will expose audiences to an electric and rare mix of string orchestra repertoire."

The ensemble's repertoire combines works from the classical realm, while also ensuring to include a range of lighter pieces from film and popular music in their concerts.

"We will be playing pieces by Richard Wagner, Jean Sibelius, Georg Philipp Telemann, Tomaso Vitali, and a few well-known and loved film scores such as the Love Theme from The Godfather by Nino Rota," says Anant Kamath, the principal violinist of the orchestra.

When Narayanaswamy started the Chamber Orchestra, he began with a small string ensemble. Fast forward 28 years, the ensemble now has 18 permanent members, and is "occasionally joined by professional musicians from across India and abroad for brief visiting periods, including even woodwind and brass players, with whom there is mutual benefit and cultural exchange," adds Kamath. One of the noteworthy aspects about the ensemble is the visible age of the members – the orchestra comprises young players aged 14, right up to seasoned members aged over 70, all of whom share thoughts and ideas about music and the compositions with each other, as well as learn from one another.

We will be playing pieces by Richard Wagner, Jean Sibelius, Georg Philipp Telemann, and a few well-known film scores such as the Love Theme from The Godfather by Nino Rota. Anant Kamath, principal violinist of the orchestra

QUICK FIX

CORIANDER LEMON SOUP

Contributed by: Surkhah Khan, Lucknow

INGREDIENTS

Vegetable oil: 1 tbsp ■ Ginger: 1/4 tsp ■ Garlic: 2 pods ■ Onion: 1 tsp ■ Cabbage: 1 tsp ■ Green chilli: 2 ■ Pepper powder: 1/4 tsp ■ Coriander stem: 2 tsp ■ Coriander leaves: 4 tbsp ■ Lemon juice: 3 tbsp ■ Corn flour: 2 tsp in 2 tbsp water ■ Salt to taste

METHOD

- Heat oil in a wok and sauté ginger and garlic. Then, add onion and cabbage. Cook for another minute.
- Add vegetable stock, green chilli and coriander stem. Mix well, and let it boil for 3-4 minutes on medium flame.
- Add pepper powder, half of the coriander leaves and salt. Mix well. Let it boil for another 2-3 minutes on low flame.
- Add corn flour paste. Stir continuously to avoid any lumps. Cook for another 1-2 minutes. Switch off the flame, add lemon juice and the leftover coriander leaves, and serve.

FIT BIT

ARDHA KAPOTASANA VARIATION I (HALF PIGEON POSE VARIATION I)

It increases flexibility and offers a wide range of physical and spiritual benefits. It is linked to the Svadisthana (sacral) chakra, which allows the individual to enliven their sensory experiences. Pigeon pose and its variations offer a powerful form of emotional release. Supports mobility and flexibility of the hip and the lower back.

STEPS

- Start in Adho Mukha Svanasana (Downward Facing Dog Pose).
- Inhale, lift the left leg back, and as you exhale, bend the leg, bring it in front to place the knee in line with the right wrist and foot in line with the left hand.
- Lower the hips and right leg down, drawing a straight line with your right leg towards the bottom edge of your mat, like a half split.
- Make sure that the leg extended at the back should be in line with the hip and straight, with the toes pointing in front.
- Press the fingers and palms to support your spine, opening the chest, and breathing softly.
- Stay centered, pressing into the top of the back foot for a stability, bringing your awareness to the front of the right hip crease. Avoid rolling onto the outer edge of the left hip.
- Stay here gazing down or in front, for 6 breaths. Then, gently unfold the left leg and come back to Adho Mukha Svanasana.
- Stay here for a while and do the same process with the other leg. After practising with both legs relax in Child's Pose.

BENEFITS

- Opens the IT band, quadriceps, gluteus, maximus, abdominal muscles, psoas, and lower back.
- Improves the flexibility of the hips, legs, and spine as well.
- Improves breathing at the upper diaphragm with the opening of the chest muscles.
- Corrects postural and body alignment; especially hunchback.
- Has a calming effect on the nerves, while energising them.
- Helps women with infertility issues, bringing hormonal balance.
- Tones the hips and the sides of the back, removes excess fat with the gentle stretch of the abdomen and lower back.

LIMITATIONS

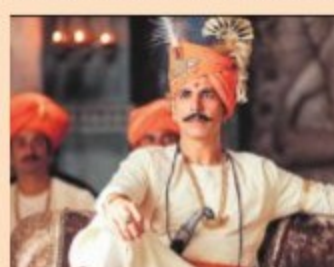

If you have injuries in the knees, ankle, hips, lower back, hamstrings, shoulders, or wrists or have undergone any recent abdominal or hip surgery, hip replacements should avoid this pose.

Those with health issues should perform under expert's guidance.

MIXING MATURE HUMOUR WITH IMPORTANT VALUES

A SHARADHAA

Coming from Vijayaprasad, the director of acclaimed movies like Sidlingu and Neer Dose, Petromax was surely a much-anticipated film. The makers also promised a crafty film with mature themes, and it definitely delivers. Petromax is an out-of-the-box film that mostly runs on hilarious conversations and simple narratives, and it ticks all the right boxes.

Having said that, Petromax is strictly meant for adults; especially with plenty of double entendres that are well balanced in a touchy subject that impacts everybody's life. Narrating the life of four orphans — Oodbatu Shivappa (Sathish Ninasam, a food delivery person), Agarbati Madappa (Arun Kumar, an electrician), Krishnamurthy (Nagabhushana, a practicing lawyer), and Kavitha Krishnamurthy (Karunya Ram, a beautician). The film tells the tale of their lives after moving from the orphanage. The trouble comes when they plan to look for a rental house, and it is then that Meenakshi (Haripriya) comes into the picture. While this is one part of Petromax, the other story talks about responsibility and balance in a family, especially lending a refreshing take on a son giving up on his parents for the sake of his wife. Such simple narratives bring out creativity laced with enough humour for the film to sail through.

Petromax is truly a Vijayaprasad film with an overdose of mischievous dialogues that flows easily with a strong emotional connect. The director has also justified the title, Petromax, which becomes an important aspect of the lives of the protagonists. The intention behind discussing children abandoning their elderly parents adds value but the core message does not strike a chord. There is hardly a dull moment in the first half, and the spontaneous one-liners from the various actors leave the audience in splits. However, the slow narrative in the second half tests the patience.

The film is armed with good performers, and the protagonists maintain affable on-screen chemistry with each other. We see effortless acting from Sathish Ninasam and Nagabhushana. Karunya Ram is a surprise and shines with her role, and Arun Kumar delivers a good act. Haripriya, who has been a director's actor, has a convincing role as a real estate agent. The supporting cast played by Achyuth Kumar, Vijayalakshmi Singh, Padmaja Rao, Sudha Belawadi, and Ashwin Hassan adds a lot of value to the whole proceedings. The film has an average soundtrack by Anoop Seelin. Petromax, highlighting light and life, is an honest and bold attempt by the director that ends with a hint of a sequel.

Keanu Reeves to helm OTT docuseries on F1

CE FEATURES

K EANU Reeves is working on a docuseries about Formula One for the streaming portal Disney+. This yet-to-be-titled four-part series will reportedly focus on Formula One managing director Ross Brawn, who in 2009 bought the Honda team, renamed it Brawn GP, and took it to two championship victories.

Reeves will host the series and has already been conducting interviews. Last week,

Reeves was pictured at the British Grand Prix in Silverstone, UK, where he spoke to a local racing journalist about the documentary series.

"We want to tell that amazing remarkable story (of Brawn). There is so much to talk about. A friend of mine was telling me the story and I was so struck by it. He was actually working for Brawn back in the day in publicity and he's a producer/director and so we were like, well let's tell that story, let's try and tell that story," he said.

Gabriel Leone on board Ferrari

CE FEATURES

W HILE it is known that Michael Mann is helming the Enzo Ferrari biopic titled Ferrari, there is a new addition to the cast.

Brazilian actor Gabriel Leone has joined the cast of the film and will be essaying Alfonso De Portago, one of Ferrari's star drivers back in the day. The film stars Adam Driver in the titular role of the racer-turned-business magnate. Ferrari also stars Penélope Cruz and Shailene Woodley in prominent roles and is set to resume filming in the first week of August in Italy.

Troy Kennedy Martin of The Italian Job fame has adapted the script along with Mann from Brock Yates' book Enzo Ferrari: The Man and the Machine. Mann will also be serving as a producer through his production house, Moto Productions along with PJ van Sandwijk, John Leshner, and Lars Sylvest.

PUNEETH RAJKUMAR'S LAST FILM, GANDHADA GUDI GETS A RELEASE DATE

The docu-drama, directed by wildlife photographer Amoghavarsha, will see a theatrical release on October 28

CE FEATURES

A CTOR Puneeth Rajkumar's last film Gandhada Gudi has gotten its release date. The docu-drama, directed by Amoghavarsha, will be hitting the screens on October 28. An official announcement of the release date was shared by Ashwini Puneeth Rajkumar via her Twitter handle, "Appu's last film where he explores Karnataka's forests as himself as a tribute to the land that showered immense love on him." She adds, "The audience will get a true blue Appu in an unscripted way."

Filmmaker Amoghavarsha also took to his social media account, where he mentioned that "it has been the most humbling and yet grandest of experiences with Appu." He adds, "The film features Puneeth as himself and is shot across the length and breadth of Karnataka. It is said that the film will highlight the jungles, beaches, and the natural beauty of the state. Interestingly, on October 27, two days before his death, Puneeth tweeted about Gandhada Gudi being his dream project. The film is shot outdoors and will feature Puneeth's voice, which his fans are calling a fitting tribute to the actor."

Not worth the 'Chase'

CHASE

Cast: Radhika Narayan, Avinash S Divakar, Sheetal Shetty, Arjun Yogesh Raj, Sushant Pujari, Aravind Bolal

Director: Vilok Shetty

A SHARADHAA

R emaking a hugely successful film isn't as easy as many would want to believe. In this week's release, Chase, an adaptation of the Korean film, Blind, director Vilok Shetty has seemingly ignored the most important aspect of a filmmaker — instinct. Chase ends up as a rather lame thriller that does not do justice to the original, which has already seen remakes in Tamil and Hindi.

The film revolves around Nidhi (Radhika Narayan), a CBI officer who loses her vision in a freak accident. She goes through personal and professional turmoil but does try her best to move on with life. However, she becomes a witness to a hit-and-run case, and things become complicated. Nidhi takes the help of Avinash (Avinash Divakar) who works in the police department, and they investigate the case, which springs a few tense and surprising moments. Except for these twists and turns, and a few well-conceived action sequences, the film disappoints.

Vilok Shetty's first misstep was diluting a complex crime thriller with a romantic track and songs. The film does not give many edge-of-the-seat moments, which is imperative in a genre like this.

Radhika puts in her best to stay in the character, however, her body language clearly indicates her struggle in portraying a visually impaired person.

Avinash seems earnest but does not bring the shades of a bright cop. The characters playing negative shades seem weak in their performances and their on-and-off encounters with the protagonist are uninteresting. The mass moments are brought through episodes between Nidhi and the opponents, but they don't really work well as these sequences aren't captured properly. Honestly, contrary to the title, this is not at all a film that needs to be chased and watched.

HOW NOT TO MAKE A BIOPIC

SHABAASH MITHU

Cast: Taapsee Pannu, Murmtaz Sorcar, Vijay Raaz, Brijendra Kala, Devadarshini, Sampa Mandal

Director: Srijit Mukherji

SHILAJIT MITRA

Y OU'D be forgiven for scrolling Wikipedia before entering a show of Shabaash Mithu. Mithali Raj—one of India's fiercest, most accomplished batters—is a name everyone is familiar with, yet not the specifics of her story. A biopic on her life, thus, has the ripe opportunity to fill us in on the details, joining the necessary dots that took a young girl from Secunderabad to 232 ODIs, 89 T20I matches, and six World Cups. It's the stuff, as they say, of legends.

Unfortunately, Shabaash Mithu is not the film for it. If anything, Srijit Mukherji's film takes the stuff out of the legend, leaving us with a vague, one-dimensional hero. It treats Mithali as the standalone messiah of women's cricket in India. What she signifies ultimately supercedes who or what she really is. Her biggest glories—youngest ODI centurion (recently beaten by Ireland's Amy Hunter), highest run-scorer in women's cricket, its longest captain—are bundled into montages that whizz on by, with minimal impact. Not a line or anecdote or fascinating trivia sticks. Her conflicts and failures exert no force. As evinced by its title, with its emphatic 'shabaash (well done)', this is a film all too eager to praise.

The childhood portions are promising. Mithali, just eight, subdues a group of boys with her equally pint-sized best friend Noorie. The girls—prodigiously dubbed the 'Sachin and Kamli' of this story—get spotted by local trainer Sampath (Vijay Raaz), who enrolls them in his academy. When Noorie is prematurely married off to a boy in Dubai, thus leaving both her city and cricket, it strengthens Mithali's resolve to continue pursuing their dream. "You got to keep on playing," counsels coach Sampath. Vijay Raaz is absolutely essential to these scenes, his marvellously weathered face and gray hair glinting in the afternoon sun.

As Mithali, now in her teens and played onwards by Taapsee Pannu, gets picked for National Camp, the film collapses in a heap of predictability. Srijit and writer Priya Aven pick the choicest of sports movie clichés to beat us over with. The other players (names mildly altered) behave coldly with Mithali.

They jointly taunt, heckle and bully her—the impetus being that the new girl comes from relative privilege and is thus a 'softie'. Mithali wins them over not through friendship and wit—as would seem the more natural course—but by a steady dominance on the crease. Her rise to captaincy, likewise, happens merit-wise (is it really ever that simple?). Most unimaginatively, there's the hovering

Shabaash Mithu resembles Chak De! India (2007) in its highlighting of the scrappy treatment doled out to female national teams in India. The men's side is universally favoured; they get sponsors, press, even privilege clearance at airports. "Cost-cutting"—Mithali is told of the hand-me-down jerseys her team receives from the cricket board. Yet when she confronts a senior official about it—played, expectedly, by Brijendra Kala—the scene only leads to further humiliation. The cleverly pitched match between the men's and women's team in Chak De! India is replaced here by the girls throwing in the jerseys and storming off. They're painted as victims, to a degree at least, accepting a bad situation without a fight. By the time they turn it around it's too little, too late.

Taapsee looks nothing like the real Mithali Raj (the effect is less distracting than I expected it to be). Her performance, at least on the field, is speedy and sharp. What throws the actor off are scenes of high emotional wattle: nervous young Mithali searching for her medical pouch or, later on, scoring a century in a state of grief and shock. Far better is her rendering of the smaller bits, like the quiet humiliation Mithali endures in a country of male-obsessed fans.

The 2017 World Cup—relayed, mostly, through television screens—looks like a rushed job. Srijit told Cinema Express in an interview that the pandemic scrambled their plans. Even so, there are evident compromises—like distilling all of Mithali Raj's international career into two campaigns. Budget and scale, however, are minor problems in Shabaash Mithu; the bigger issue is of insight. This is entirely surface-level cinema. I was no more enlightened coming out as I was going in. This is a film that even Wikipedia beats.
